production designer's professional perspective and particular creative point of view. The case studies employ a methodology Barnwell has pioneered for the analysis of production design called Visual Concept Analysis which can be used as a key to decode the design of any given film. Through the nurturing warmth of the Browns' home in Paddington, the ambiguous boundaries of secret service agent homes in Tinker Tailor Soldier Spy and the singleton space occupied by Bridget Jones in Bridget Jones's Diary, Barnwell demonstrates that the domestic interior consistently plays a key role. Whether used as a transition space, an ideal catalyst for change, or a place to return to, these case studies examine the pivotal nature of the home in storytelling and the production designer's significance in its creation. The book benefits from interviews with production designers and artwork that provides insight on the creative process.

Screen Interiors Pat Kirkham, Sarah A. Lichtman, 2021-03-11. Covering everything from Hollywood films to Soviet cinema, London's queer spaces to spaceships, horror architecture and action scenes, Screen Interiors presents an array of innovative perspectives on film design. Essays address questions related to interiors and objects in film and television from the early 1900s up until the present day. Authors explore how interior film design can facilitate action and amplify tensions, how rooms are employed as structural devices, and how designed spaces can contribute to the construction of identities. Case studies look at disjunctions between interior and exterior design and the interrelationship of production design and narrative. With a lens on class, sexuality and identity across a range of films including Twilight of a Woman's Soul (1913), The Servant (1963), Caravaggio (1986) and Passengers (2016) and illustrated with film stills throughout, Screen Interiors showcases an array of methodological approaches for the study of film and design history.

Designs on the Past Lloyd Llewellyn-Jones, 2018-07-13. The epic glitter and glamour of Hollywood's Golden Age. In the period 1916-1966, during its so-called Golden Age, Hollywood developed a passion for the ancient world and produced many epic movie blockbusters. The studios used every device they could find to wow audiences with the spectacle of antiquity. In this unique study, Lloyd Llewellyn-Jones shows how Hollywood carefully and skilfully created the popular modern perception of the ancient world. He analyses how producers, art directors, costumiers, publicity agents, movie stars and inevitably a cast of thousands literally designed and crafted the ancient world from scratch. This lively book offers a technical as well as a theoretical guide to a much neglected area of film studies and reception studies that will appeal to anyone working in these disciplines.

Key Features Lavishly illustrated with film stills and examples of rare and fascinating marketing material. Broad coverage of films including The King of Kings, The Sign of the Cross, Samson and Delilah, Land of the Pharaohs, The Ten Commandments, Ben Hur, Spartacus and Cleopatra. Considers different aspects of film production: the Hollywood set, costume design, the role of the movie star, dialogue, narration and music. Sets a new agenda for exploring the relationship between history and film and between history and visual culture. Explores the archaeology of stardom, examining the onscreen and offscreen images of Elizabeth Taylor, Charlton Heston and Rita Hayworth. Includes a filmography, chronological outline and study aids.
