Field Programmable Logic and Applications Patrick Lysaght, James Irvine, Reiner Hartenstein, 2004-06-22 This book contains the papers presented at the 9th International Workshop on Field Programmable Logic and Applications FPL 99 hosted by the University of Strathclyde in Glasgow Scotland August 30 September 1 1999 FPL 99 is the ninth in the series of annual FPL workshops The FPL 99 programme committee has been fortunate to have received a large number of high quality papers addressing a wide range of topics From these 33 papers have been selected for presentation at the workshop and a further 32 papers have been accepted for the poster sessions A total of 65 papers from 20 countries are included in this volume FPL is a subject area that attracts researchers from both electronic engineering and computer science Whether we are engaged in research into software or hardware seems to be primarily a question of perspective What is unquestionable is that the interaction of groups of researchers from different backgrounds results in stimulating and productive research As we prepare for the new millennium the premier European forum for researchers in field programmable logic remains the FPL workshop Next year the FPL series of workshops will celebrate its tenth anniversary The contribution of so many overseas researchers has been a particularly attractive feature of these events giving them a truly international perspective while the informal and convivial atmosphere that pervades the workshops have been their hallmark We look forward to preserving these features in the future while continuing to expand the size and quality of the events

Communication System Design Using DSP Algorithms Steven A. Tretter, 2012-12-06 Designed for senior electrical engineering students this textbook explores the theoretical concepts of digital signal processing and communication systems by presenting laboratory experiments using real time DSP hardware The experiments are designed for the Texas Instruments TMS320C6701 Evaluation Module or TMS320C6711 DSK but can easily be adapted to other DSP boards Each chapter begins with a presentation of the required theory and concludes with instructions for performing experiments to implement the theory In the process of performing the experiments students gain experience in working with software tools and equipment commonly used in industry High Performance Embedded Architectures and Compilers Per Stenström, Michel
