Designs for Castles and Country Villas Robert Adam, Alistair John Rowan, James Adam, Alistair Rowan, 1985 Designs for Castles and Country Villas by Robert & James Adam Alistair John Rowan, 1985 Designs for Castles and Country Villas by Robert & James Adam Rowan, 1985 Designs for Castles and Country Villas by Robert & James Adams James Adam, 1985 Reading Architectural History Dana Arnold, 2003-09-02 Architectural history is more than just the study of buildings Architecture of the past and present remains an essential emblem of a distinctive social system and set of cultural values and as a result it has been the subject of study of a variety of disciplines But what is architectural history and how should we read it Reading Architectural History examines the historiographic and socio cultural implications of the mapping of British architectural history with particular reference to eighteenth and nineteenth century Britain Discursive essays consider a range of writings from biographical and social histories to visual surveys and guidebooks to examine the narrative structures of histories of architecture and their impact on perception and understanding of the architecture of the past Alongside this each chapter cites canonical histories juxtaposed with a range of social and cultural theorists to reveal that these writings are richer than we have perhaps recognised and that architectural production in this period can be interrogated in the same way as that from more recent past and can be read in a variety of ways The essays and texts combine to form an essential course reader for methods and critical approaches to architectural history and more generally as examples of the kind of evidence used in the formation of architectural histories while also offering a thematic introduction to architecture in Britain and its social and cultural meaning Robert and James Adam, Architects of the Age of Enlightenment Ariyuki Kondo, 2015-10-06 During the second half of the eighteenth century British architecture moved away from the dominant school of classicism in favour of a more creative freedom of expression At the forefront of this change were architect brothers Robert and James Adam Kondo's work places them within the context of eighteenth century intellectual thought The Oxford Dictionary of Architecture James Stevens Curl, Susan Wilson, 2015 With over 6 000 entries this is the most authoritative dictionary of architectural history available The 17th and 18th Centuries Frank N. Magill, 2013-09-13 Each volume of the Dictionary of World Biography contains 250 entries on the lives of the individuals who shaped their times and left their mark on world history This is not a who's who Instead each entry provides an in depth essay on the life and career of the individual concerned Essays commence with a quick reference section that provides basic facts on the individual's life and achievements The extended biography places the life and works of the individual within an historical context and the summary at the end of each essay provides a synopsis of the individual's place in history All entries conclude with a fully annotated bibliography Complete Works of Robert and James Adam and Unbuilt Adam David King, 2013-09-13 This volume is a unique compendium of the works of Robert and James Adam both built and unbuilt It includes 900 illustrations The Complete Works of Robert and James Adam is reprinted here in its entirety updated and corrected This title covers every one of the 230 or so built works including 12 that have been recently discovered It is complemented by a completely new title Unbuilt Adam This mentions all the brothers important unbuilt projects and it discusses and illustrates 130 of them This volume gives an exceptionally thorough review of the brothers designs From public buildings to country houses and monuments to ceilings it is well informed and erudite It provides a mine of information for both the expert and the general reader and it uses the works covered to give an understanding of the Adam manner

English Architecture Public & Private John F. Bold, 1993-07-01 This book brings together twenty four original essays by colleagues pupils and friends of Kerry Downes The essays range from the late middle ages to the twentieth century but are concentrated on the period to the study of which Kerry Downes has contributed so much that of Wren Vanbrugh and Hawksmoor Taken together these essays display the different approaches taken by architectural historians and the rich variety of English architecture
