In this singular collection indigenous experts describe the social welfare systems of fifteen East Asian and Pacific Island nations and locales Vastly understudied these lands offer key insight into the successes and failures of Western and native approaches to social work suggesting new directions for practice and research in both local and global contexts Combining international experiences and professional knowledge contributors illuminate the role of history and culture in shaping the social welfare systems of Cambodia China Hong Kong SAR China Indonesia Malaysia the Micronesian region including the Federated States of Micronesia Guam Unincorporated Territory U S A Marshall Islands Northern Mariana Islands Commonwealth U S A and Palau Samoa and American Samoa Unincorporated Territory U S A South Korea Taiwan and Thailand The contributors link the values and issues that concern populaces most to the development of social work practice policy and research Sharlene B C L Furuto then conducts a comparative analysis of the essays including their data and social service programs highlighting the similarities and differences between the evolution of social welfare in these nations and locales She contrasts their indigenous approaches the responses of governments and NGOs to social issues the availability of social work education as well as API models paradigms and templates and the overall status of the social work profession Furuto also adds a chapter comparing the distinct social welfare systems of Samoa and American Samoa The only volume to focus exclusively on social welfare in East Asia and the Pacific this anthology holds immense value for practitioners and researchers eager for global perspectives Whose Tradition? Nezar AlSayyad,Mark Gillem,David Moffat,2017-10-06 In seeking to answer the question Whose Tradition this book pursues four themes Place Whose Nation Whose City People Whose Indigeneity Colonialism Whose Architecture and Time Whose Identity Following Nezar AlSayyad's Prologue contributors addressing the first theme take examples from Indonesia Myanmar and Brazil to explore how traditions rooted in a particular place can be claimed by various groups whose purposes may be at odds with one another With examples from Hong Kong a Santal village in eastern India and the city of Kuala Lumpur contributors investigate the concept of indigeneity the second theme and its changing meaning in an increasingly globalized milieu from colonial to post colonial times Contributors to the third theme examine the lingering effects of colonial rule in altering present day narratives of architectural identity taking examples from Guam Brazil and Portugal and its former colony Mozambique Addressing the final theme contributors take examples from Africa and the United States to demonstrate how traditions construct identities and in turn how identities inform the interpretation and manipulation of tradition within contexts of socio cultural transformation in which such identities are in flux and even threatened The book ends with two reflective pieces the first drawing a comparison between a sense of home and a sense of tradition the second emphasizing how the very concept of a tradition is an attempt to pin down something that is inherently in flux

Jesuits at the Margins Alexandre Coello de la Rosa, 2015-12-07 In the past decades historians have interpreted early modern Christian missions not simply as an adjunct to Western imperialism but a privileged field for cross cultural encounters Placing the Jesuit missions into a global phenomenon that emphasizes economic and cultural relations between Europe and the East this book analyzes the possibilities and limitations of the religious conversion in the Micronesian islands of Guam and the Northern Marianas Frontiers are not rigid spatial lines separating culturally different groups of people but rather active agents in the transformation of cultures By bringing this local dimension to the fore the book adheres to a process of missionary glocalization which allowed Chamorros to enter the international community as members of Spain's regional empire and the global communion of the Roman Catholic Church
