Framing Climate Change in the EU and US After the Paris Agreement Frank Wendler, 2022-07-01 Political responses to climate change are shaped by beliefs and ideas How does discourse on climate action and its contestation affect policy making Addressing this question the book compares EU and US policy making since the Paris Agreement and its framing by key political institutions The empirical part analyses the structure linkages and contestation of frames to evaluate the contrasting spaces of climate politics in both systems As the first direct comparison of EU and US climate governance since the Paris Agreement the book advances current research on the politics of climate change the politicization of multi level governance and the role of discourse for policy change

The Politics of the Anthropocene John S. Dryzek, Jonathan Pickering, 2019 This is a book about how politics government and much else needs to change in response to the transition from the Holocene to the Anthropocene The Holocene is the last 12 000 years of unusual stability in the Earth system The Anthropocene is the emerging epoch of human caused instability in the system and its life support capacities Dominant institutions such as states markets and international organizations that developed in the late Holocene are no longer fit for purpose and need to develop a capacity to transform themselves in response to a changing Earth system The analysis is developed in the context of issues such as climate change biodiversity and global efforts to address sustainability
