R. F. Maunder, 2004 Evidence indicates that the concertos of Vivaldi Bach Haydn etc were performed as chamber music not the full orchestral works commonly assumed The concertos of Vivaldi Bach Handel and their contemporaries are some of the most popular and the most frequently performed pieces of classical music and the assumption has always been they were full orchestral works This book takes issue with this orthodox opinion to argue quite the reverse that contemporaries regarded the concerto as chamber music The author surveys the evidence from surviving printed and manuscript performance material from concerts throughout Europe between 1685 and 1750 the heyday of the concerto demonstrating that concertos were nearly always played one to a part at that time He makes a particularly close study of the scoring of the bass line discussing the question of what instruments were most appropriate and what was used when The late Dr RICHARD MAUNDER was Fellow of Christ s College Cambridge The Concerto Abraham Veinus,1964-01-01 The first thorough English language exploration of the concerto as a musical form this is an oft quoted authoritative survey Examining the social economic and personal factors that influenced the concerto s growth the work also summarizes the contributions of theorists composers and musicians and defines the genre s terms and the changing nature
