Condition Red; Destroyer Action In The South Pacific [Illustrated Edition] Commander F. J. Bell,2015-11-06 Includes the Second World War In The Pacific Illustration Pack 152 maps plans and photos Commander Frederick Bell recounts his wartime experiences on the USS G Grayson during the Pacific War CONDITION RED was an expression that we used to indicate the imminence of any type of engagement Aboard the G it was a colloquialism that served to express the conviction that the next few hours or days or weeks were going to be packed with action We first heard it soon after we arrived in the Solomons where the term was used on Guadalcanal and Tulagi to indicate the approach of the enemy and when our voice radio blared out the words we went to General Quarters and prepared to greet the Tokyo Express or the Zeros and Mitsubishis when they came within view Little has been written of the part that our destroyers are playing in the Pacific War where they are called upon to fulfil such a variety of missions that they have become multipurpose ships engaging in any form of combat Because we lacked suitable escort ships we used destroyers to protect convoys as well as to guard our combatant Task Forces We used them to bombard enemy shore positions and to carry bombs and aviation gasoline and stores to Guadalcanal during the lean weeks early in our campaign in those far distant seas By nature as well as by name the purpose of the destroyer is wholly offensive Bantamweights in comparison with the great battlewagons they pack a punch out of all proportion to their size They are triple threat weapons built to strike at any enemy on or over or under the sea In the words of Rear Admiral Tisdale They are the fightingest thing afloat Condition Red. Destroyer Action in the South Pacific ... Illustrated with Photogravures and Two Maps Frederick Jackson BELL,1943 Great Stories of World War II Arthur Coleman,Hildy Neel,2007 These eye witness accounts written by war correspondents service men and women home front

civilians and defense workers among others constitute an invaluable and underutilized resource for historians geographers and students of this great historical event

Tin Can Titans John Wukovits,2017-03-14 An epic narrative of World War II naval action that brings to life the sailors and exploits of the war s most decorated destroyer squadron When Admiral William Halsey selected Destroyer Squadron 21 Desron 21 to lead his victorious ships into Tokyo Bay to accept the Japanese surrender it was the most battle hardened US naval squadron of the war But it was not the squadron of ships that had accumulated such an inspiring resume it was the people serving aboard them Sailors not metallic superstructures and hulls had won the battles and become the stuff of legend Men like Commander Donald MacDonald skipper of the USS O Bannon who became the most decorated naval officer of the Pacific war Lieutenant Hugh Barr Miller who survived his ship s sinking and waged a one man battle against the enemy while stranded on a Japanese occupied island and Doctor Dow Doc Ransom the beloved physician of the USS La Vallette who combined a mixture of humor and medical expertise to treat his patients at sea epitomize the sacrifices made by all the men and women of World War II Through diaries personal interviews with survivors and letters written to and by the crews during the war preeminent historian of the Pacific theater John Wukovits brings to life the human story of the squadron that bested the Japanese in the Pacific and helped take the war to Tokyo

Under the Southern Cross Thomas McKelvey Cleaver,2021-05-13 A vivid narrative history of the Solomons and New Guinea campaigns of World War II which represented key turning points in the U S Navy s campaign against the Japanese in the Pacific From August 7 1942 until February 24 1944 the US Navy fought the most difficult campaign in its history Between the landing of the 1st Marine Division on Guadalcanal and the final withdrawal of the Imperial Japanese Navy from its main South Pacific base at Rabaul the US Navy suffered such high personnel losses that for years it refused to publicly release total casualty figures The Solomons campaign saw the US Navy at its lowest point forced to make use of those ships that had survived the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor and other units of the pre war navy that had been hastily transferred to the Pacific 140 days after the American victory at Midway USS Enterprise was the only pre war carrier left in the South Pacific and the US Navy would have been overwhelmed in the face of Japanese naval power had there been a third major fleet action At the same time another under resourced campaign had broken out on the island of New Guinea The Japanese attempt to reinforce their position there had led to the Battle of the Coral Sea in May and through to the end of the year American and Australian armed forces were only just able to prevent a Japanese conquest of New Guinea The end of 1942 saw the Japanese stopped in both the Solomons and New Guinea but it would take another 18 hard fought months before Japan was forced to retreat from the South Pacific Under the Southern Cross draws on extensive first hand accounts and new analysis to examine the Solomons and New Guinea campaigns which laid the groundwork for Allied victory in the Pacific War
