Fiber (Paper) Rush

Fiber Rush is twisted round paper cord. It is often used in weaving chair seats. Fiber rush comes in a variety of sizes, can be dyed to make colorful rims, and includes smooth paper rush and Danish cording that has a textured look to the paper rope. It can be sprayed with Design Master spray, dyed, or left natural.

When dyeing the white smooth Paper Rush, several tubs of coordinated colors can be used to make a variety of colorful blends. Take one-third of the coil and dip in one color, another third and dip in a second color, and finally, the last third in a third color. Where the colors meet, you will get a different color. For example, when you mix yellow and blue, you will get green. If you want a solid color, just dip the coil in one color only. Dipping only needs to be for a second. The paper dyes immediately and, if left in the dye, it will fall apart. I lay the paper rush on newspaper to dry.
