Chinese Writing Early China Special Monograph Series No 4:

Zuo Tradition / Zuozhuan, 2016-11-14 Zuo Tradition Zuozhuan sometimes called The Zuo Commentary is China's first great work of history. It consists of two interwoven texts: the Spring and Autumn Annals (Chunqiu), a terse annalistic record, and a vast web of narratives and speeches that add context and interpretation to the Annals. Completed by about 300 BCE, it is the longest and one of the most difficult texts surviving from pre-imperial times. It has been as important to the foundation and preservation of Chinese culture as the historical books of the Hebrew Bible have been to the Jewish and Christian traditions. It has shaped notions of history, justice, and the significance of human action in the Chinese tradition, perhaps more so than any comparable work of Latin or Greek historiography has done to Western civilization. This translation, accompanied by the original text, an introduction, and annotations, will finally make Zuozhuan accessible to all.

Metamorphic Imagery in Ancient Chinese Art and Religion Elizabeth Childs-Johnson, John S. Major, 2023-05-30 Metamorphic Imagery in Ancient Chinese Art and Religion demonstrates that the concept of metamorphism was central to ancient Chinese religious belief and practices from at least the late Neolithic period through the Warring States Period of the Zhou dynasty. Central to the authors' argument is the ubiquitous motif in early Chinese figurative art: the metamorphic power mask. While the motif underwent stylistic variation over time, its formal properties remained stable, underscoring the image's ongoing religious centrality. It symbolized the metamorphosis through the phenomenon of death of royal personages from living humans to deceased ancestors who required worship and sacrificial offerings. Treated with deference and respect, the royal ancestors lent support to their living descendants; ratifying and upholding their rule, neglected they became dangerous, even malevolent. Employing a multidisciplinary approach that integrates archaeologically recovered objects with literary evidence from oracle bone and bronze inscriptions to canonical texts, all situated in the appropriate historical context, the study presents detailed analyses of form and style and of change over time, observing the importance of relationality and the dynamic between imagery, materials, and affects. This book is a significant publication in the field of early China studies, presenting an integrated conception of ancient art and religion that surpasses any other work now available.

Philosophy on Bamboo Dirk Meyer, 2011-11-14 Scholarship on early Chinese thought has long tended to treat texts as mere repositories of ideas rather than as meaningful objects in their own right. Not only does this approach present an idealised account of China's intellectual past, but it also imposes artificial boundaries between textual and philosophical traditions. As the first study to treat text as a cultural phenomenon during the Warring States period, this book demonstrates the interplay among the material conditions of text and manuscript culture, writing and thought. Through close readings of philosophical texts excavated at Gu di n, it analyses crucial strategies of meaning construction and casts light on the ways in which different communities used texts to philosophical ends. Meyer thus establishes new understandings of the correlation between ideas, their material carrier, and the production of meaning in early China.

China in European Encyclopaedias, 1700-1850 Georg Lehner, 2011-05-10 This

The History of China , The Idea of Writing Alexander J. de Voogt,Irving L. Finkel,2010 This exploration of the versatility of writing systems highlights their complexity when they are used to represent loanwords solve problems of polysemy or when they are adapted to be used for another language The approaches from different academic traditions provide a varied but expert account

Chinese Character Manipulation in Literature and Divination Anne Kathrin Schmiedl,2020-04-06 In Chinese Character Manipulation in Literature and Divination Anne Schmiedl analyses the little studied method of Chinese character manipulation as found in imperial sources Focusing on one of the most famous and important works on this subject the Zichu by Zhou Lianggong 1612 1672 Schmiedl traces and discusses the historical development and linguistic properties of this method This book represents the first thorough study of the Zichu and the reader is invited to explore how on the one hand the educated elite leveraged character manipulation as a literary play form On the other hand as detailed exhaustively by Schmiedl practitioners of divination also used and altered the visual phonetic and semantic structure of Chinese characters to gain insights into events and objects in the material world
