C. VARGHESE, 2014-04-04 The term Maintenance of a building refers to the work done for keeping an existing building in a condition where it can perform its intended functions Usually the buildings last only for 40 to 50 years in a good shape just because of regular inspection and maintenance that enable timely identification of deteriorated elements. Overlooked dilapidation, inadequate maintenance and lack of repair works may lead to limited life span of a building. This comprehensive book striving to focus on the maintenance, repair, rehabilitation and minor works of a building presents useful guidelines that acquaint the readers with the traditional as well as modern techniques for upkeeping and repairing of buildings already constructed. Dexterously organised into five parts, this book in Part I deals with the maintenance of buildings. Description of the construction chemicals, concrete repair chemicals, special materials used for repair and repair of various parts of a building is given in Part II. Strengthening of reinforced concrete members by shoring, underpinning, plate bonding, RC jacketing and FRP methods are explored in Part III, which also highlights rebuilding of RC slabs and protection of earth slopes. Part IV of the book exposes the reader to the minor works done in a building such as construction of compound walls, gates, water sumps, house garage, relaying of floors, joining two adjacent rooms and so on. Part V is based on some allied topics involving control on termites and fungus in buildings as well as introduction of Vaastu Shastra and its main recommendations for a single house in a plot. Using an engaging style, this book will prove to be a must read for the undergraduate and postgraduate students of civil engineering as well as for the polytechnic and ITI diploma students. Besides, the book will also be of immense benefit to the technical professionals across the country.

KEY FEATURES

The text displays several figures to make the concepts clear. Chapter end references make the text suitable for further study. Appendices at the end of the text provide extra information on non-destructive field tests for survey of the condition of concrete buildings and rough estimation of the construction and maintenance costs of buildings.

Concrete Surface Engineering Benoit Bissonnette, Luc Courard, Andrzej Garbacz, 2018-10-09

Applying any material to an existing concrete surface intrinsically entails the development of a bond. Considering the ever-increasing importance of concrete repair and protection, which imply the creation of an interface between two materials, an improved knowledge of concrete surface characteristics is paramount. Surface engineering, which has evolved from the world of metallurgy, addresses all surface-related considerations, notably adhesion. It provides a fundamental understanding of what will make the contact between two materials effective or not, allowing for interactions of variable intensity. It also comes with a variety of scientific tools for characterizing the quality of the substrate, the properties of the new material layer and their interface. In the case of concrete surface treatment, this is especially important for achieving lasting results. This book addresses the essentials of concrete surface engineering in view of a wide variety of concrete surface treatments, from protective coatings to repairs. It provides a leading edge source of information for practicing engineers, architects, repair specialists and researchers on the following topics: Surface engineering principles applied to concrete; Methods and techniques for assessing concrete surface characteristics; Fundamentals of adhesion between concrete and surface repairs; treatments; Compatibility requirements for concrete surface repairs treatments Review of surface preparation techniques available for concrete Achievement and appraisal of bond between existing concrete and surface repairs treatments Beno t Bissonnette is professor of civil engineering at Laval University in Quebec City Canada Luc Courard is professor of building materials at the University of Li ge in Belgium Andrzej Garbacz is professor of building materials engineering in the Department of Building Materials Engineering at the Warsaw University of Technology in Poland
