and battlefield communications Here we learn about such critical moments as General Philip Sheridan s gallant defense along the Wilkinson Pike one of the war s most tenacious stands against overwhelming odds and the bravery in battle exemplified by Brekenridge s attack on the Union left a doomed assault with the poignancy of Pickett s charge Over twenty thousand Union and Confederate soldiers were killed wounded or captured in the bloody New Year s battle of Stone s River The impact of their struggle extended far beyond the thousands of shattered human lives ultimately imperiling the fortunes of the Confederacy No Better Place to Die pays tribute to the heroes the scoundrels the mistakes the bravery and the grief at Stone s River

The Battle of Peach Tree Creek Earl J. Hess,2017-08-09 On July 20 1864 the Civil War struggle for Atlanta reached a pivotal moment As William T Sherman s Union forces came ever nearer the city the defending Confederate Army of Tennessee replaced its commanding general removing Joseph E Johnston and elevating John Bell Hood This decision stunned and demoralized Confederate troops just when Hood was compelled to take the offensive against the approaching Federals Attacking northward from Atlanta s defenses Hood s men struck George H Thomas s Army of the Cumberland just after it crossed Peach Tree Creek on July 20 Initially taken by surprise the Federals fought back with spirit and nullified all the advantages the Confederates first enjoyed As a result the Federals achieved a remarkable defensive victory Offering new and definitive interpretations of the battle s place within the Atlanta campaign Earl J Hess describes how several Confederate regiments and brigades made a pretense of advancing but then stopped partway to the objective and took cover for the rest of the afternoon on July 20 Hess shows that morale played an unusually important role in determining the outcome at Peach Tree Creek a soured mood among the Confederates and overwhelming confidence among the Federals spelled disaster for one side and victory for the other
