Architecture, Print Culture and the Public Sphere in Eighteenth-Century France Richard Wittman,2007 This book focuses on the complex ways in which architectural practice theory patronage and experience became modern with the rise of a mass public and a reconfigured public sphere between the end of the seventeenth century and the French Revolution Presenting a fresh theoretical orientation and a large body of new primary research this book offers a new cultural history of virtually all the major monuments of eighteenth century Parisian architecture with detailed analyses of the public debates that erupted around such Parisian monuments as the east facade of the Louvre the Place Louis XV the Place de la Concorde and the church of Sainte Genevieve the Pantheon Depicting the passage of architecture into a mediatized public culture as a turning point and interrogating it as a symptom of the distinctly modern configuration of individual society and space that emerged during this period this study will interest readers well beyond the discipline of architectural history

The Politics of Print During the French Wars of Religion Gregory P. Haake,2020-10-12 In The Politics of Print During the French Wars of Religion Gregory Haake examines how in late sixteenth century France authors and publishers used the new medium of the printed text to control the terms of public discourse and determine history or at least their narrative of it The creativity of the Renaissance ushered in new instability of discourse and a decline of traditional centres of authority Gregory Haake shows that poets authors printers and polemicists including historians such as Simon Goulart the great poets of the time such as Pierre de Ronsard or Agrippa d Aubign or anonymous authors of polemical texts rushed in to take advantage of discursive uncertainty to discredit their enemies and shape the meaning of history as it unfolded
