Perspectives on Indo-Caribbean Women's Literature Joy Allison Indira Mahabir, Mariam Pirbhai, 2013 This book is the first collection on Indo Caribbean women s writing and the first work to offer a sustained analysis of the literature from a range of theoretical and critical perspectives such as ecocriticism feminist queer post colonial and Caribbean cultural theories The essays not only lay the framework of an emerging and growing field but also critically situate internationally acclaimed writers such as Shani Mootoo Lakshmi Persaud and Ramabai Espinet within this emerging tradition Indo Caribbean women writers provide a fresh new perspective in Caribbean literature be it in their unique representations of plantation history anti colonial movements diasporic identities feminisms ethnicity and race or contemporary Caribbean societies and culture The book offers a theoretical reading of the poetics politics and cultural traditions that inform Indo Caribbean women s writing arguing that while women writers work with and through postcolonial and Caribbean cultural theories they also respond to a distinctive set of influences and realities specific to their positioning within the Indo Caribbean community and the wider national regional and global imaginary Contributors visit the overlap between national and transnational engagements in Indo Caribbean women s literature considering the writers response to local or nationally specific contexts and the writers response to the diasporic and transnational modalities of Caribbean and Indo Caribbean communities

Forgotten Marlene Goldman, 2017-11-07 A groundbreaking comparison of scientific popular and literary approaches to provoke new stories of dementia

Canadian Gothic Cynthia Sugars, 2014-01-15 This book explores the Gothic tradition in Canadian literature by tracing a distinctive reworking of the British Gothic in Canada It traces the ways the Gothic genre was reinvented for a specifically Canadian context On the one hand Canadian writers expressed anxiety about the applicability of the British Gothic tradition to the colonies on the other they turned to the Gothic for its vitalising rather than unsettling potential After charting this history of Gothic infusion Canadian Gothic turns its attention to the body of Aboriginal and diasporic writings that respond to this discourse of national self invention from a post colonial perspective

These counter narratives unsettle the naturalising force of this invented history rendering the sense of Gothic comfort newly strange The Canadian Gothic tradition has thus been a conflicted one which reimagines the Gothic as a form of cultural sustenance This volume offers an important reconsideration of the Gothic legacy in Canada Flight from Certainty, 2021-11-01 Shapes of Silence Proma Tagore, 2009-03-17 Drawing from the insights of subaltern studies and postcolonial feminisms Proma Tagore brings together the work of a diverse group of writers Toni Morrison Shani Mootoo Louise Erdrich M K Indira Rashsundari Debi and Mahasweta Devi She focuses on the visceral affective nature of their narratives and explores the way that personal and historical trauma initially silenced may be recorded across generations as well as across complex national racial gender and sexual lines Writing the Earth, Darkly Isabel Hoving, 2017-02-08 Why do we find so many references to nature and the environment in the many Caribbean literary texts that try to come to terms with the contemporary age of globalization Even when these novels and poems do not seem to be concerned with environmental issues at all they abound with fragrant creepy or dark references to flowers insects trees gardens and mud This book discusses a range of Anglophone and Dutch language Caribbean literary texts to propose an answer It shows that some writers evoke nature to question oppressive notions of what is natural and what is not when it comes to race gender and desire Other writers choose to counter the destructive dichotomies of wildness order nature culture nature human that marked colonialism Instead they represent the environment as a field of interconnectedness marked by intense semiotic interaction in which human beings are also implicated But writing about nature can also be a means to reconnect with the very foundations of life itself In the most dramatic cases references to nature evoke an extra discursive space that then functions to subvert existing discourses That space may even mark the site of the annihilation of discourse or of the self These texts suggest that in times of globalization it is only the dark queer turn to matter that will free the path to imagining human existence in a new way The book's proposal to understand some of these fascinating texts as an effort to relate to the mind baffling explosive real is inspired by postcolonial trauma theory posthumanism and new materialism However Caribbean literature is a layered practice that does much more than merely explore the world's materiality It works simultaneously as cultural critique counter discourse and as the manipulation of affect This book therefore brings together ecocriticism with Caribbean and postcolonial studies the study of globalization trauma theory the study of gender and sexuality posthumanism and new materialism to bring out the full complexity of these wise texts Thus it hopes to show its readers their extraordinary innovative potential
