Communication In Construction Teams Spon Research:

Communication in Construction Teams Stephen Emmitt, Christopher Gorse, 2006-09-27 Construction teams are usually complex interdisciplinary and temporary and as such the need for effective communication is crucial. However, published data regarding the manner in which individuals interact within the temporary project team is scarce with little other than anecdotal evidence available. Recognizing this gap, Communication in Construction Teams provides a comprehensive overview of the literature on interpersonal communication and delivers a critical review of various research methods previously used in and outside the construction management field. Making use of Bales interaction process analysis (IPA), a tool used successfully in many fields to collect interaction data, the text investigates the link between successful projects and the effectiveness of communication, finding that participants in the construction process exhibit regular patterns of interaction and most significantly that there are different patterns of interaction associated with successful and unsuccessful projects. Putting forward a number of practical suggestions to assist all actors involved in construction projects, this insightful publication will be of interest to researchers in the fields of building design and construction management.

Architectural Management Stephen Emmitt, Matthijs Prins, Ad den Otter, 2009-04-13 Architectural Management represents the state of the art of research and practice in the field and includes contributions from leading international figures. The book looks back at over a decade of research into architectural management, considers the present challenges and opportunities, and looks to the future. You will find a review of earlier work and developments as well as a focus on new research areas. The book is divided into six sections representing topical themes; each section contains two research-based chapters and one practical case study. Case studies are from six European countries: Belgium, Denmark, Finland, The Netherlands, Norway, and the UK.

Construction Supply Chain Management Handbook William J. O'Brien, Carlos T. Formoso, Vrijhoef Ruben, Kerry

London,2008-10-20 Mounting emphasis on construction supply chain management CSCM is due to both global sourcing of materials and a shortage of labor These factors force increasing amounts of value added work to be conducted off site deep in the supply chain Construction Supply Chain Management Handbook compiles in one comprehensive source an overview of the dive Managing Interdisciplinary Projects Stephen Emmitt,2010-04-26 1 Interfaces 2 Communication 3 Trust 4 Discussions 5 Decisions 6 Context 7 Assembly 8 Development 9 Learning 10 Implementation Architectural Technology Stephen Emmitt,2012-03-05 Since the publication of the first edition of Architectural Technology in 2002 there have been significant developments in the number of courses the profile of the discipline as well as significant changes in the Construction sector The Second edition of Architectural Technology addresses these challenges directly Much greater emphasis is given to the three core themes of the book Environmental Sustainability Innovation and Design An increase in the visual material included reinforces the critical role of Design aiding students to better translate conceptual designs into built artefacts Building upon solid teaching practice from the previous edition Architectural Technology is now more concisely structured to take the reader through the whole life cycle of a building emphasising sustainability and building performance Material on digital information building information modelling BIM and information communication technologies has been updated Most chapters have been re titled to emphasise the importance of design and make the book more accessible to a wider range of students Chapters conclude with updated more extensive links to further reading Architectural Technology 2nd Edition Bridges the knowledge gap between design and construction Tackles the core subjects of management technologies and design from a sustainable building angle Addresses the buildability and performance of a design from a whole life perspective Thoroughly revised and updated this undergraduate level textbook is essential for Architectural Technology courses Students studying Architectural Engineering Architecture Building Surveying and more general Construction courses will find the material invaluable Employee Resourcing in the Construction Industry Ani Raiden,Andrew Dainty,Richard Neale,2009-03-04 This new book looks at employee resourcing in depth both analytically and in order to provide a practical insight into the strategic considerations and operational approaches which modern large contractors take in deploying their human resources It is a valuable resource for both students and managers

Understanding Organisational Culture in the Construction Industry Vaughan Coffey,2010-01-28 Using the construction industry as the subject of his research Vaughan Coffey investigates the culture performance link using a new measure of company performance and an evaluation of organizational culture which is largely behaviourally based Collaborative Construction Information Management Geoffrey Shen,Peter Brandon,Andrew Baldwin,2009-06-02 Most construction projects are large and costly Collaborative working involves two or more stakeholders sharing their efforts and resources to complete the project more effectively and efficiently Collaborative integrative and multi disciplinary teams can tackle the complex issues involved in creating a viable built environment This tends to be looked at from three interrelated perspectives the technological organizational and social and of these the key issue is to improve productivity and enable innovation through the empowerment and motivation of people This book provides insights for researchers and practitioners in the building and construction industry as well as graduate students written by an international group of leading scholars and professionals into the potential use development and limitations of current collaborative technologies and practices Material is grouped into the themes of advanced technologies for collaborative working virtual prototyping in design and construction building information modelling managing the collaborative processes and human issues in collaborative working Managing Knowledge in the Construction Industry Alexander Styhre, 2009-05-07 Knowledge management presents a new way of understanding organizations and companies and is especially suited to sophisticated and highly technical firms and operations such as those in the construction industry This new book draws on hard data from three separate research programs in Sweden and shows how the concept of knowledge can make sense in the construction industry an industry which can be viewed in essence as being engaged in the material transformation of nature into buildings In particular it explores and examines three different businesses a medium sized construction firm Wing rdh Architecture Sweden s most prestigious architecture firm and BESAB a specialist concrete injection firm working on underground construction An emerging theme is the situational and context bound nature of knowledge in the construction industry thus showing knowledge to be a remarkably heterogeneous concept A range of readers should find the book useful from students and construction managers through to researchers
