material and findings are presented with an international comparative perspective it is a must read for students of policing security and law and professionals in related fields

Doing Research on Crime and Justice Roy King, Emma Wincup, 2008 Focusing on the problems that novice researchers encounter when translating neat and tidy textbook methodologies into real life situations this guide explains how to undertake research in the fields of criminology and criminal justice

Democratic Policing in a Changing World Peter K. Manning, 2015-11-17 Democratic policing today is a widely used approach to policing not only in Western societies but increasingly around the world Yet it is rarely defined and it is little understood by the public and even by many of its practitioners Peter K Manning draws on political philosophy sociology and criminal justice to develop a widely applicable fundamental conception of democratic policing In the process he delineates today's relationship between democracy and policing Democratic Policing in a Changing World documents the failure of police reform showing that each new approach such as crime mapping and hot spots policing fails to alter any fundamental practice and has in fact increased social inequalities He offers a new and better approach for scholars policy makers police governments and societies

Policing the Caribbean Benjamin Bowling, 2010-05-27 Policing the Caribbean investigates the emergence of transnational policing practises in response to drug trafficking and organized crime in ten Caribbean territories The book addresses questions of accountability and explores how understandings of national sovereignty are shifting in the face of domestic and global insecurity

Dictionary of Policing Tim Newburn, Peter Neyroud, 2013-06-17 Contemporary policing is developing rapidly and is becoming increasingly professionalized For practitioners National Occupational Standards Skills for Justice and the the new PDLP Police Development and Learning Programme have brought a new emphasis on skills standards and knowledge Training for police officers and civilian staff working in policing is being significantly upgraded At the same time it has become more rigorous with universities and other higher educational institutions playing an increasingly important part in police training as well as expanding the range of policing courses for undergraduate and postgraduate students Key features approximately 300 entries of between 500 and 1500 words on key terms and concepts arranged alphabetically designed to meet the needs of both students and practitioners entries include summary definition main text and key texts and sources takes full account of emerging occupational and Skills for Justice criteria edited by the UK's leading academic expert on policing and the Chief Executive of the National Policing Improvement Agency Entries contributed by leading academic and practitioners in policing

Probation Round the World Koichi Hamai, Robert Harris, Mike Hough, Renaud Ville, Ugljesa Zvekic, 2005-06-29 Theoretically innovative this book reviews disparate existing literature on comparative probation and offers a coherent analysis of probation around the world Represents findings of the UN Crime and Justice Research Unit

Reintegrative Justice in Practice Helen Miles, Peter Raynor, 2016-04-08 Recent years have seen the development of a growing international literature on restorative justice community justice and reintegrative alternatives to formal criminal justice processes This literature is stronger on theory and advocacy than on detailed evaluative studies. It often relies for its practical examples on the presumed historical practices of the indigenous peoples of colonised territories or on attempts to revive or promote modified versions of these in a modern context which has led to debates about how far modern communities can provide a viable setting for such initiatives. This book provides a unique study of the practice of traditional reintegrative community justice in a European society: the Parish Hall Enquiry (PHE) in the Channel Island of Jersey. This is an ancient institution based on an informal hearing and discussion of a reported offence with the alleged offender and other interested parties carried out by centeniers (honorary police officers) elected to one of Jersey's twelve parishes. It is still in regular use as an integral part of a modern criminal justice system and it usually aims to resolve offences without recourse to formal prosecution in court. Helen Miles and Peter Raynor's research arising from direct observation contributes to the literature on what works in resolving conflicts and influencing offenders and their detailed case studies of how problems are addressed gives a hands-on flavour of the process. The authors also document the aspects of community life in Jersey that facilitate or hinder the continuation of the PHEs, drawing out the implications of these findings for wider debates about the necessary and sufficient social conditions for reintegrative justice to succeed.
