Designing Health Communication Campaigns Thomas E. Backer, Everett Rogers, Pradeep Sopory, 1992-04-30 Advances in health care have made extraordinary changes in the life expectancy and level of vitality of the average American Still according to the U S Surgeon General a full one half of all premature deaths are due to lifestyle and therefore preventable This important collection presents a comparative synthesis of what works and what does not in mass media health campaigns High priority is given to coverage of substance abuse prevention campaigns but programs on AIDS smoking teenage pregnancy heart disease Alzheimer s Disease and vehicle seat belt use are also reviewed Designing Health Communication Campaigns deepens our understanding of how to design implement and evaluate mass media campaigns by highlighting the contributions of media experts who add a human element to the various campaign experiences they describe This work is indispensable in a fast evolving field where it serves as both a reference and a concordance for interpreting many other analytic sources Campaign designers researchers communications scholars and graduate students as well as policymakers and program funders will find the book to be valuable in helping make critical decisions about effective mass communication campaigns This volume is valuable because it emphasizes actual experiences and is thus recommended as an adjunct to classic texts in the field Graduate faculty professional Choice

Handbook of Drug Abuse Prevention Zili Sloboda, William J. Bukoski, 2007-08-06 There are a number of reasons why this book is important First there is no one source that summarizes what we know about the prevention of substance abuse from the research field so the book serves as a repository of accumulated knowledge on prevention theory intervention design and development and prevention research methodology Second as an evolving field prevention science has only begun to assert itself in both the arenas of practice and policy The formation of the Society for Prevention Research in 1991 was the first recognition that a science of prevention existed and required a separate forum to present the rapidly growing content of the field for discussion and review Finally there is a need to establish a baseline a reference point against which progress in the field of prevention science can be assessed This book serves all of these purposes The idea for this book grew from the observation in the early 1990s that after decades of attempts to develop effective interventions to prevent drug use among children and adolescents in the United States that we were finally having success particularly in addressing the initiation of use These successes are the result of research that has provided a better understanding of the factors and processes associated with the onset of substance use Mass Media and Drug Prevention William D. Crano, Michael Burgoon, Stuart Oskamp, 2001-11-01 This book tells the story of the mass media s potential in the war against drug abuse It is based on scientific evidence on the use of media in health promotion and disease prevention Past approaches successes and failures alike are included to help enlighten future programs of research and practice Advice about the logical steps that must be taken to help alleviate the crisis of drug abuse is featured throughout The book will appeal to social scientists interested in persuasion and the media Each chapter offers information to help the conscientious practitioner maximize persuasive effects of a mass mediated presentation Communications Programs for Demonstrating the Prevention of Alcohol, Tobacco, and Other Drug Problems Center for Substance Abuse Prevention (U.S.), 1995 Oversight Hearing on Office of National Drug Control Policy Anti-drug Media Campaign United States.
