Bylund, 2015-09-25 Family Communication Cohesion and Change encourages students to observe family interaction patterns analytically and relate communication theories to family interactions Using a framework of family functions first person narratives and current research Family Communication Cohesion and Change emphasizes the diversity of today's families in terms of structure ethnic patterns and developmental experiences

Transgender Communication Studies Jamie C. Capuzza, Leland G. Spencer, 2015-02-05 Transgender Communication Studies Histories Trends and Trajectories brings scholarship in transgender studies to the forefront of the communication discipline Leland Spencer and Jamie Capuzza provide a broad foundation that documents the evolution of transgender communication studies and challenges fundamental assumptions about the relationship between communication and identity The contributors explore the political conditions these practices create for persons across the spectrum of gender identities and sexual orientations placing them in the subdisciplines of human communication media and public and rhetorical communication The collection also looks to the future of transgender research with suggestions and directives for continued work This comprehensive study inspires critical thinking about gender identity and transgender lives from within the vocabularies and methodologies of communication studies

Family Relationships and Familial Responses to Health Issues Sampson Lee Blair, Jennifer Higgins McCormick, 2014-10-13 Around the globe families are often faced with a variety of health issues often as a result of social political religious and economic forces This multidisciplinary volume addresses the impact these issues have on the family as a unit how they impact family relationships as well as how the family as a whole responds

Women's Narratives of Health Disruption and Illness Jennifer M. Hawkins, Peter M.

Kellett, 2019-06-28 Through vivid and engaging narrative accounts written and collected by women Women's Narratives of Health Disruption and Illness Within and Across Their Life Stories explores how women experience the health disruptions and illnesses that span their lives. The collection examines how women's broader and ongoing life stories impact and are impacted by health disruptions and illnesses. Organized into three parts, the chapters explore Beginnings in which health disruptions and illnesses impact early life, motherhood, and where early choices create the origins of health issues that impact later life; Middles which explores health experiences in and around middle age or from the standpoint in middle age looking back and forth; and Endings which explores narratives of ageing and end of life communication. Personal, revealing, and often beautiful, the women's narratives featured in this book will invite the reader into the stories and lives of others and toward the reflection, learning, and personal transformation that comes from truly connecting with the experiences of others. This book will be helpful for scholars of communication, health, women's studies, family studies, and sociology.

Widening the Family Circle Kory Floyd, Mark T. Morman, 2013-08-20 Widening the Family Circle: New Research on Family Communication, Second Edition, continues to address historically understudied family relationships such as those involving grandparents, in-laws, cousins, stepfamilies, and adoptive parents. In this engaging text, editors Kory Floyd and Mark T. Morman bring together a diverse collection of empirical studies, theoretic essays, and critical reviews of literature on communication to constitute a stronger, more complete understanding of communication within the family.

Feminist Mentoring in Academia Leandra Hinojosa Hernández, Stevie M. Munz, Jessica A. Pauly, 2023-09-25 Feminist Mentoring in Academia offers a varied collection of autoethnographic and research-based accounts of support, struggle, and resilience from the ivory tower. Contributors write about the moments in between where feminist mentoring initiates, renews, thrives, and sometimes struggles. The work presented in this book highlights how feminist mentoring happens between professor and student, junior faculty and tenured, and occurs repeatedly. Featuring contributions from scholars at varying points in their academic careers, the chapters of this book propose best feminist mentorship practices, disclose personal narratives, and critique traditional forms of mentoring with visions for feminist mentorship futures. Scholars of communication, feminist studies, higher education, and sociology will find this book of particular interest.
