Community Policing Issues And Practices Around The World:

Community Policing Jerome H. Skolnick, David H. Bayley, 1988 This monograph examines the history and central features of community policing and experience with this approach in the United States Australia Canada Great Britain Denmark Finland Norway Sweden Japan and Singapore Contemporary ideas about community policing arose from reconsideration of police strategies and practices in the 1960 s and 1970 s Community policing is regarded as a strategy for improving relations between the police and the public while strengthening police effectiveness in preventing and controlling crime The four elements of community policing are the organization of community based crime prevention the reorientation of patrol activities to emphasize nonemergency servicing increased police accountability to local communities and the decentralization of command It thus involves major changes in the customary roles of the police Thus it raises concerns about the implications of thorough integration of the police into the community In addition the vitality of community policing may depend on social structure and be greatest in affluent educated middle class communities
