By Grace Transformed Christianity For A New Millennium:

A Glimpse of the Kingdom in Academia Irene Alexander, 2013-02-11 University is a major way that our society prepares professionals and leaders in education health government business arts church all components of our communal lives Although the beginnings of the first universities were Christian academia has become more and more adrift from these foundations We have lost not only the union the interwovenness of theological and academic understandings but also the relational and communal process of learning which teaches students to be other centered in their practice A Glimpse of the Kingdom in Academia tells the story of the social sciences department of a small Christian university that took seriously the mandate to prepare their students to be salt and light in a secular society Here are stories of the transformation in students lives as well as description of classroom practices and the epistemological theory behind those practices The book explores academic knowing Christian worldview relational epistemology inner knowing and wisdom all ways of knowing that a Christian university should teach The process of transformation the context of community and the bigger picture of life s journey and changing images of God are identified as important aspects of kingdom life in academia The institutional setting is also critiqued with the recognition that power practices need to align with the kingdom of the Christ who emptied himself

To Whom Shall We Go Irene Alexander, Christopher Brown, 2021-05-07 With the world turned upside down by the global pandemic people of faith aligned to the upside down kingdom of Jesus are asking how do we sing the Lord s song in these times How do we now live worship and serve amid such upheaval insecurity fear grief and social isolation Is it just to endure the worst or to seek the best by walking the way of the cross Is there an invitation to renewed kingdom citizenship of heaven and earth Our backgrounds will impact our responses as will our prayers our scripture reflections our worship and our willingness to put the center of ourselves outside to offer unlimited space for others With backgrounds in medicine physics economics missiology theology social activism pastoral care and spiritual companioning these writers engage such questions There is a cruciform shape to their reflections and to the prayers and liturgies they include We glimpse the One who is with us and for us in these troubled times sharing our laments fostering kingdom heartedness igniting our passions offering tender mercies decluttering our hearts making peace instilling courage and inviting our participation Though in crisis times our poverty of spirit is amplified the kingdom of heaven is wide open With contributions from Terry Gatfield Athena Gorospe Ross McKenzie Tim MCowan Paul Mercer Sarah Nicholl Charles Ringma Building a People of Power Robert C. Linthicum, 2015-09-15 Jesus never intended the church to become an institution he intended it to be a people of power transforming the world Power is the capacity ability and the willingness to act Most people and systems use power to dominate and control but others have used it relationally to liberate transform and even save Built around a biblical exploration of shalom Building a People of Power explains how local churches can use power to transform their communities and their cities Detailed power strategies are presented enabling churches to build productive relationships to address the primary issues of people they serve and to develop strong leaders faithful organizations and redeemed neighborhoods that live out shalom

Toward a Spiritual Research Paradigm Jing Lin, Rebecca L. Oxford, Tom E. Culham, 2016-07-01 Spirituality and spiritual experiences have been the bedrock of every civilization and together form one of the highest mechanisms for making sense of the world for billions of people Current research paradigms due to their limitation to empirical sensory psychologically or culturally constructed realities fail to provide a framework for exploring this essential area of human experience The development of a spiritual research paradigm will provide researchers from the social sciences and education the tools and abilities to systematically explore fundamental questions regarding human spiritual experiences and spiritual growth A spiritual research paradigm requires an ontology that considers all reality to be multidimensional interconnected and interdependent It requires an epistemology that integrates knowing from outer sources as well as inner contemplation acknowledging our integration of soul and spirit with the body and mind Three additional aspects are useful to a spiritual research paradigm axiology methodology and teleology An axiology concerns what is valued good and ethical A methodology is the appropriate approach to systematic inquiry A fifth and less frequently mentioned aspect is teleology an explanation of the goal or end telos to which new knowledge is applied such as gaining wisdom and truth touching the divine increasing inner peace exploring hidden dimensions or improving society This book takes the first step to develop such a research paradigm We draw from world spiritual traditions as well as scholarship that has arisen from contemplative practices We also attempt to build a bridge between science and spirituality Spiritual research is not necessarily opposed to scientific research in fact each can shed light on the other

Roger Owens, 2017-05-16 Many urban congregations remember days of fame and fortune days when their prominence downtown or in city neighborhoods mattered Population shifts the decline of congregations and neighborhoods and demographic changes depleted the dreams of many urban churches But not all churches gave up hope Many congregations are struggling to survive but thousands of urban churches are thriving again Churches with revived hope learn to let go of nostalgic dreams and tired habits and to walk with God into a new day of vibrant mission and ministry Donna Claycomb Sokol and Roger Owens share lessons they've learned on the job and from other urban pastors Along the way they challenge clichés about church leadership and strategic planning by showing what congregational renewal can look like and how it can become a reality Each chapter features a set of practical guidelines for leading a congregation to address the questions that matter most The urban church can be quite a challenge I know because I've served a couple Now two thoughtful pastors with actual urban church experience take an affectionate positive honest and hopeful look at the urban church and give practical wisdom for the revival of languishing urban congregations There's a remarkable revival of the urban church in North America Donna and Roger can help you be part of it William H Willimon Professor of the Practice of

Christian Ministry Duke Divinity School Duke University Durham NC retired bishop The United Methodist Church Three things excite me most about this book First these two young pastors understand the strategic importance of urban ministry and are passionately committed to it Second they show that when you turn from tired church growth and corporate paradigms choosing rather to model your ministry on Jesus new life happens And third they explain that transformation is about journeying faithfully with the questions rather than looking for quick fix techniques This book could change your ministry Peter Storey South African church leader W Ruth and A Morris Williams Distinguished Professor Emeritus of the Practice of Christian Ministry Duke Divinity School Duke University Durham NC What's Faith Got to Do with It? John Clayton Lentz, 2025-09-11 Do you have questions about God prayer politics religion sex Jesus and the Bible but aren't satisfied with traditional pat answers Then join the journey of loving the questions shaping your life by curiosity discovery and appreciation This is a book for lifelong learners seekers doubters believers who wonder and the nonaffiliated The questions that are addressed arose from a small group of young adults who gathered to circle the mysteries and wonder aloud about them and in so doing found a community of support and confidence about their own faith expressions Faith Seeking Action Gregory P. Leffel, 2007-06-01 In Faith Seeking Action author Gregory Leffel links a description of the church as a global movement with a description of contemporary social movements that are actively challenging today's societies such as the environmental global justice and identity movements Not surprisingly Christian communities and communities of social activists share much in common as they each work to enrich their societies It is natural then to ask what missionally concerned Christians may learn from social movements about the public role of their churches the connection of their beliefs to social change and the mobilization of their people It can also be asked how these often divided communities may find ways to collaborate around common actions rooted in such shared values as peace justice life and the integrity of the environment Building on growing interest in the field of missiology and its missional church concept Leffel has created a dialog between the church as a social actor and social movements Along with introducing movement theory to mission studies Leffel introduces a new way of addressing the issues involved in the church's engagement with society a concept he calls missio ecclesiology Of interest to those seeking vital ways to live out their faith in the world missiologists missional church leaders and street level workers alike this work fuels fresh thinking about the church's role in cultural and social change
