

The background of the cover is a collage of various clinical chemistry-related images. At the top right, there is a 3D molecular model of a protein or enzyme. On the left side, there are several large, translucent red spheres, possibly representing cells or molecules. In the center, there is a complex flowchart or diagram with many small text labels and arrows, likely representing a metabolic pathway or a diagnostic algorithm. On the right side, there is a grayscale image of a laboratory instrument, possibly a spectrophotometer or a chromatograph, with a sample being analyzed.
