Littlejohn, 2009-03-16 The way that can be told is not the eternal Way the name that can be named is not the eternal Name So begins the first verse of the mysterious Dao De Jing foundation text of the ancient Chinese religion of Daoism Often attributed to semi mythical sage Laozi the origins of this enigmatic document which probably came into being in the third century BCE are actually unknown But the tenets of Daoism laid down in the Dao De Jing and in later texts like the Yi Jing or Book of Changes continue to exert considerable fascination particularly in the West where in recent years they have been popularised by writers such as the novelist Ursula K LeGuin In this fresh and engaging introduction to Daoism Ronnie L

Littlejohn discusses the central facets of a tradition which can sometimes seem as elusive as the slippery notion of Dao itself. The author shows that fundamental to Daoism is the notion of Wu wei or non action a paradoxical idea emphasising alignment of the self with the harmony of the universe a universe in continual flux and change. This flux is expressed by the famous symbol of Dao the taiji representing yin and yang eternally correlating in the form of a harmonious circle. Exploring the great subtleties of this ancient religion Littlejohn traces its development and encounters with Buddhism its expression in art and literature its fight for survival during the Cultural Revolution and its manifestations in modern day China and beyond.

Cultivating Perfection Louis Komjathy, 2007-09-30 This important work focuses on early Quanzhen Complete Perfection Daoism a twelfth century Daoist religious movement and subsequent monastic order. Emphasis in this first study to approach Quanzhen from a comparative religious studies perspective is placed on the complex interplay among views of self specific training regimens and the types of experiences that were expected to follow from dedicated praxis. On the basis of historical contextualization and textual analysis it is demonstrated that in its formative and incipient organized phases Quanzhen was a Daoist religious community consisting of a few renunciants dedicated to religious praxis. The study proper is followed by a complete annotated translation of a text attributed to the founder which represents one of only two early Quanzhen texts translated to date. Subsequent appendices address issues of dating and contents of the early textual corpus as well as technical Quanzhen religious terminology.

The Daoist Tradition Louis Komjathy, 2013-06-20 Using a historical textual and ethnographic approach this is the most comprehensive presentation of Daoism to date. In addition to revealing the historical contours and primary concerns of Chinese Daoists and Daoist communities The Daoist Tradition provides an account of key themes and defining characteristics of Daoist religiosity revealing Daoism to be a living and lived religion. Exploring Daoism from a comparative religious studies perspective this book gives the reader a deeper understanding of religious traditions more broadly. Beginning with an overview of Daoist history The Daoist Tradition then covers key elements of Daoist worldviews and major Daoist practices. This is followed by a discussion of the importance of place and sacred sites as well as representative examples of material culture in Daoism. The work concludes with an overview of Daoism in the modern world. The book includes a historical timeline a map of China 25 images a glossary text boxes suggested reading and chapter overviews.
