Design Primer For Hot Climates Allan Konya:

Design Primer for Hot Climates Allan Konya, 2013-10-22 Design Primer for Hot Climates offers a discussion of architecture and planning for hot climates The hot tropical and sub tropical regions contain most of the world's population and it is here that the majority of new buildings will be built For this reason this book concentrates on these regions but serves only as a broad outline of the climatic environmental and technological conditions The book begins with a discussion of climatic elements climatic zones and comfort This is followed by separate chapters on climatic design regional hazards e g condensation lightning storms earthquakes etc that must be considered during the design stage and factors such as site accessibility materials selection water and labor supply and building regulations and standards This book is meant not only for designers from temperate climatic areas but also for those who live in these regions in the hope that they will be stimulated to re examine conditions which may have become over familiar to them Metric Handbook Pamela Buxton, 2021-11-25 The Metric Handbook is the major handbook of planning and design data for architects and architecture students with over 100 000 copies sold to successive generations of architects and designers It remains the ideal starting point for any project and belongs in every design office The seventh edition references the latest regulations and construction standards and includes new chapters on data centres and logistics facilities alongside basic design data for all the major building types For each building type the book gives the basic design requirements and all the principal dimensional data and succinct guidance on how to use the information and what regulations the designer needs to be aware of As well as buildings the Metric Handbook deals with broader aspects of design such as materials acoustics and lighting and general design data on human dimensions and space requirements The Metric Handbook is the unique reference for solving everyday planning problems Hawaiian Design Kent Royle, Cliff Terry, 1993-07 Presents seven strategies for energy efficient architectural design in Hawaii orientation and building form solar control daylighting natural ventilation landscaping building systems and material selection and equipment efficiency Provides architects with practical design guidelines to serve as a basis for decision making during the conceptual and schematic stages of a project Drawings graphs and photos Stay Cool Holger Koch-Nielsen, 2013-06-17 In hot dry or warm humid climates more than half of the urban peak load of energy consumption is used to satisfy air conditioning demands alone Since the urbanization rate in developing countries is extreme the pressure placed on energy resources to satisfy the future requirements of the built environment will be great unless new more cost effective measures can be introduced Stay Cool is an essential guide for planning and design using active design principles and passive means to satisfy human comfort requirements specifically in these climate zones based on examples of traditional and modern constructions The book demonstrates how a design strategy for urban environments and individual buildings incorporating naturally occurring resources and specific energy efficient technologies can create a location form and structure that promote significant energy savings Such strategies can be applied to low cost housing or indeed to any other buildings in order to improve comfort with passive means and low energy budgets Following an outline of climatic issues characteristics and thermal comfort requirements the book details the available techniques and technologies that can be used to shape both built and external environments the building envelope material selections and natural ventilation and cooling methods to satisfy both human requirements and the need for energy efficiency It also includes an active design checklist and summary of available design checking tools a rehabilitation guide for existing urban building and external environments and solar charts Planners architects engineers technicians and building designers will find Stay Cool an inspirational guide and an essential reference when working with planning and design of the built environment in hot dry and warm humid climate zones It will also be of benefit to students academics and researchers with an interest in sustainable and energy efficient architecture techniques and practice Heating, Cooling, Lighting Norbert M. Lechner, Patricia Andrasik, 2021-10-26 The essential guide to environmental control systems in building design For over 25 years Heating Cooling Lighting Sustainable Design Strategies Towards Net Zero Architecture has provided architects and design professionals the knowledge and tools required to design a sustainable built environment at the schematic design stage This Fifth Edition offers cutting edge research in the field of sustainable architecture and design and has been completely restructured based on net zero design strategies Reflecting the latest developments in codes standards and rating systems for energy efficiency Heating Cooling Lighting Sustainable Design Strategies Towards Net Zero Architecture includes three new chapters Retrofits Best practices for efficient energy optimization in existing buildings Integrated Design Strategies for synergizing passive and active design Design Tools How to utilize the best tools to benchmark a building s sustainability and net zero potential Heating Cooling Lighting Sustainable Design Strategies Towards Net Zero Architecture is a go to resource for practicing professionals and students in the fields of environmental systems technology or design environmental design systems construction technology and sustainability technology Heating, Cooling, Lighting Norbert Lechner, 2014-10-13 Sustainable environmental control through building design Heating Cooling and Lighting is the industry standard text on environmental control systems with the emphasis on sustainable design By detailing the many factors that contribute to the comfort in a building this book helps architects minimize mechanical systems and energy usage over the life of the building by siting building design and landscaping to maximize natural heating cooling and lighting This new fourth edition includes new information on integrated design strategies and designing for the Tropics Resources include helpful case studies checklists diagrams and a companion website featuring additional cases an image bank and instructor materials Designing buildings that require less energy to heat cool and light means allowing the natural energy of the sun and wind to reduce the burden on the mechanical and electrical systems Basic design decisions regarding size orientation and form have a great impact on the sustainability cost and comfort of a building Heating Cooling and Lighting provides detailed guidance for each phase of a design project Readers will Understand the concept of sustainability as applied to energy sources Review the basic principles of thermal comfort and the critical role of climate Learn the fundamentals of solar responsive design including active and passive solar systems as well as photovoltaics Discover how siting architectural design and landscaping can reduce the requirements for mechanical and electrical systems In sustainable design mechanical and electrical systems should be used to only accomplish what the architect could not by the design of the building itself With this in mind designers require a comprehensive understanding of both the properties of energy and the human factors involved in thermal comfort Heating Cooling and Lighting is the complete industry leading resource for designers interested in sustainable environmental control

Planner's Guide to Facilities Layout and Design for the Defense Communications System Physical Plant, 1985 The Architects' Journal, 1986 Architectural Design for Tropical Regions Cleveland Salmon, 1999-05-04 Architectural Design for Tropical Regions is a complete guide to designing public and private buildings for tropical regions that are healthy comfortable and exist in harmony with both the natural environment and local traditions In addition to proven design strategies it brings together a wealth of detailed information on all of the technical and nontechnical issues that must be taken into consideration when designing for tropical environments Hawaiian Modern Vladimir Ossipoff, Marc Treib, 2007-01-01 At the forefront of the postwar phenomenon known as tropical modernism Vladimir Ossipoff 1907 1998 won recognition as the master of Hawaiian architecture Although he practiced at a time of rapid growth and social change in Hawaii Ossipoff criticized large scale development and advocated environmentally sensitive designs developing a distinctive form of architecture appropriate to the lush topography light and microclimates of the Hawaiian islands This book is the first to focus on Ossipoff's career presenting significant new material on the architect and situating him within the tropical modernist movement and the cultural context of the Pacific region The authors discuss how Ossipoff synthesized Eastern and Western influences including Japanese building techniques and modern architectural principles In particular they demonstrate that he drew inspiration from the interplay of indoor and outdoor space as advocated by such architects as Frank Lloyd Wright applying these to the concerns and vernacular traditions of the tropics The result was a vibrant and glamorous architectural style captured vividly in archival images and new photography As the corporate projects and private residences that Ossipoff created for such clients as IBM Punahou School Linus Pauling Jr and Clare Boothe Luce surpass their fiftieth anniversaries critical assessment of these structures offered here by distinguished scholars in the field will illuminate Ossipoff's contribution to the universal challenge of making architecture that is delightfully particular to its place and durable over time
