Selling Beauty Morag Martin, 2009-10-05 An enjoyable history of the French cosmetic industry and the evolution of beauty standards and commercial culture during a revolutionary era European History Quarterly As the French citizenry rebelled against the excesses of the aristocracy there was a parallel shift in consumer beauty practices Powdered wigs alabaster white skin and rouged cheeks disappeared in favor of a more natural and simple style Selling Beauty challenges expectations about past fashions and offers a unique look into consumer culture and business practices Morag Martin introduces readers to the social and economic world of cosmetic production and consumption recounts criticisms against the use of cosmetics from a variety of voices and examines how producers and retailers responded to quickly evolving fashions Martin shows that the survival of the industry depended on its ability to find customers among the emerging working and middle classes But the newfound popularity of cosmetics raised serious questions Critics from radical philosophes to medical professionals complained that the use of cosmetics was a threat to social morals and questioned the healthfulness of products that contained arsenic mercury and lead Cosmetic producers embraced these withering criticisms though skillfully addressing these concerns in their marketing campaigns reassuring consumers of the moral and physical safety of their products Rather than disappearing along with the Old Regime the commerce of cosmetics reimagined and redefined flourished in the early nineteenth century as political ideals and Enlightenment philosophies radically altered popular sentiment

Wanderings of a Pilgrim in Search of the Picturesque (Complete) Fanny Parkes Parlbay, 2020-09-28 In April 1822 Monsieur mon mari took me to Switzerland For the first time I quitted England How beautiful was the Valley of Chamouni how delightful our expedition on the La Fleg re The guides pronounced it too early in the year to attempt the ascent of Mont Blanc We quitted the valley with regret and returned to Geneva but our plans were frustrated and our hopes disappointed for on reaching the hotel we found a letter requiring our instant return to England The Marchioness of Ely in which we had taken our passage to Bengal was reported to be ready to sail in a few days no time was to be lost we started immediately travelled night and day incessantly and arrived greatly harassed in town The illness brought on by the over fatigue of that journey never quitted me for years The vessel however was merely preparing for her departure and did not sail until long after Happily the pain of separation from the beloved home of my childhood was broken by the necessity of exertion in preparation for the voyage June 13th We went to Gravesend to see the ship it was scarcely possible to enter our destined abode the larboard stern cabin so full was it to overflowing boxes of clothes hampers of soda water crates of china and glass a marvellous confusion After a time the hampers and boxes were carried below the furniture cleated and lashed and some sort of order was established We had carefully selected a ship that was not to carry troops we now found the Ely had been taken up to convey four troops of H M 16th Lancers the remainder of the regiment was to sail in the General Hewitt Some of our fellow passengers were on board on the same errand as ourselves June 18th We had lingered with our friends and had deferred the sad farewell until the last moment half uncertain if we should be in time to catch the ship in the Downs we posted to Deal took refuge at the Three Kings and had the satisfaction of watching the Marchioness of Ely and the Winchelsea her companion as they bore down At 11 P M we went on board and sailed the next day There was such a glorious confusion on deck that those who were novices in military and naval affairs might deem as they gazed around it could never subside into any thing approaching order Every one however was saying it would be very different when the ship was at sea of which indeed there was little doubt for to go on as we were would have been impossible Off the Isle of Wight the pilot left us to our captain s guidance the breeze was favourable we were sailing so smoothly there was scarcely any motion The last farewell tears dropped as I passed the Needles and the coast of Hampshire whilst memory recalled the happy days I had spent there and in the Forest the beautiful Forest Such thoughts and feelings it was necessary to throw aside I joined the party in the cuddy scrutinized the strange faces and retired to my cabin with as solitary a feeling as if my husband and I had been exiles for ever The voyage began prosperously I was satisfied with the captain with my cabin with my servant and happy with my lord and master We regretted we had taken our passage in a ship full of troops and anticipated we should be debarred taking exercise on the quarter deck and enjoying ourselves with walk and talk during the fine moonlight nights In the Ely it appeared as if it would be impossible were you to attempt it you would be sure to blunder over some sleeping Lancer However the band was on board some small consolation and as the society was large there was more chance of entertainment The Lord Mayor of London William Harrison Ainsworth,1862 Women in Blue Cheryl

Mullenbach,2016-05-01 A Notable Social Studies Trade Book for Young People 2017 They were called sleuths in skirts guardian mothers copettes and police in petticoats It would be a long time well over 150 years before women in law enforcement were known simply as police officers Balancing the stories of trailblazers from the past with those of today s dedicated officers chiefs FBI agents and forensics experts this collection of riveting biographies traces the evolution of women in policing Women in Blue inspires readers to value those who broke through barriers often enduring ridicule and discrimination as they fought for equality while original interviews shed light on the daily challenges rewards and life on the job of various women currently in the trenches of law enforcement The chronological progression puts hot button issues like police brutality race relations and the treatment of suspects and prisoners into historic context and shows how many women in law enforcement are working to challenge and improve their field This rich authoritative history is packed with colorful anecdotes excerpts from primary sources and sidebars on related topics and includes photos a bibliography source notes and a list of organizations interested teens can explore to learn more about the world of law enforcement making it an indispensable resource for aspiring sleuths officers agents crime scene investigators and more The Pillar of Sand William Richards Castle (Jr.),1914 Barren Honour George Alfred Lawrence,1863
