

An object's orbit depends on the "mass inside" its orbit (also known as the interior mass). For a planet in our Solar System, you can find the interior mass by adding the Sun's mass to the mass of each object between the Sun and the planet's orbit. For example, the interior mass to Earth's orbit would be the Sun's mass plus the mass of Mercury plus the mass of Venus.

Here is a table that lists each planet, the mass inside each planet's orbit, and the speed at which the planets orbit the Sun.

Planet	Interior Mass (solar masses)	Orbital Speed (km/s)
Mercury	1.00	47.9
Venus	1.0000027	35.0
Earth	1.0000057	29.8
Mars	1.0000060	24.1
Jupiter	1.00096	13.1
Saturn	1.0012	9.66
Uranus	1.0013	6.81
Neptune	1.0013	5.43

1) Where is the vast majority of mass in the solar system located? What object or objects account for most of this mass?

2) Two students are discussing their answers to Question 1:

Student 1: I think the majority of the mass in the solar system must include both the Sun and the planets. As you get farther away from the Sun, the interior mass gets bigger and bigger because you include more planets.

Student 2: I disagree. The majority of the mass in the solar system is from just the Sun by itself. Sure the mass gets a little bigger as you include more planets, but the additional mass from planets is really small.

Do you agree or disagree with either or both of the students? Explain your reasoning.

3) How do the orbital speeds of planets farther from the Sun compare to the orbital speeds of planets closer to the Sun?
