Dark Writing Writing Past Colonialism:

Unarchived Histories Gyanendra Pandey, 2013-12-17 For some time now scholars have recognized the archive less as a neutral repository of documents of the past and rather more as a politically interested representation of it and recognized that the very act of archiving is accompanied by a process of un archiving Michel Foucault pointed to madness as describing one limit of reason history and the archive This book draws attention to another boundary marked not by exile but by the ordinary and everyday yet trivialized or trifling It is the status of being exiled within by prejudices procedures activities and interactions so fundamental as to not even be noticed that marks the unarchived histories investigated in this volume Bringing together contributions covering South Asia North and South America and North Africa this innovative analysis presents novel interpretations of unfamiliar sources and insightful reconsiderations of well known materials that lie at the centre of many current debates on history and the archive

Colonial and Postcolonial Rewritings of "Heart of Darkness" Regelind Farn, 2005 Joseph Conrad s novella Heart of Darkness 1899 is taught and read all over the world Everywhere novelists and travel writers respond to it in their own creative work I discuss 30 responses or rewritings from Africa India the Caribbean Australia Europe and the US Their perspectives include those of groups who identify with Conrad s Europeans and groups who feel close to his Africans and increasingly those of groups who situate themselves between these two extremes in various ways I identify world wide developments as well as themes strategies and paradigm shifts that correlate with different geopolitical situations Rewriters address the contribution Conrad has made to the identities of his very different readers and the patterns he has suggested for encounters In ever more intense dialogues people from all backgrounds work through images of themselves and of each other However like Conrad s narrator they also become aware of limits of language and communication Rewriters act as rereaders of the many layers of meaning in Heart of Darkness and thus imply that the reader s experience is as important as the author s This approach is increasingly developing into a use of discourse analytical methods in non theoretical texts Rewritings can bring Heart of Darkness close to the readers lives Rewriters champion processes of highly personal learning and unlearning as well as political and social approaches and can thus help readers rework their own cultural backgrounds Accordingly I both use close reading methods and take into account political and didactic intentions In conclusion I recommend reading Heart of Darkness together with one or more of its rewritings and outline some ideas for teaching such combinations After comprehensive introductions to Heart of Darkness and to the theory of rewritings I discuss works by the following authors in a convenient handbook format Ford Madox Ford Hueffer Leonard Woolf W Somerset Maugham Andre Gide Louis Ferdinand Celine Graham Greene Charlotte Jay Patrick White Chinua Achebe Wilson Harris Ngugi wa Thiong o Tayeb Salih Arun Joshi J M Coetzee V S Naipaul Robert Silverberg Caryl Phillips David Dabydeen Marlene NourbeSe Philip David Malouf Mineke Schipper Abdulrazak Gurnah Urs Widmer Redmond O Hanlon Arundhati Roy Barbara Kingsolver and Jeffrey Tayler

Shades of Empire in Colonial and Post-Colonial

Literatures ,2021-11-01 The scope of the articles in Shades of Empire in Colonial and Post Colonial Literatures which are arranged in a broad sweep from East to West with four short papers nestled in the middle on the theme of colonialism and motherhood is extensive and varied But in one way or another they all reflect the growing importance of literatures and cultures that might once have been regarded as marginal During the colonial period the literature of the centre took possession of the margin as well as of the imagination of the margin But only recently has the question been raised as to why traditional English literary history has paid so little attention to colonial literature Now post colonial literatures are writing themselves back into the centre and what used to be the margins of the English language world have now set themselves up as rival centres An interesting question to arise from this is whether in the process the former colonial or colonizing literature has now itself turned into a post colonial literature What this book affirms is the importance and interest of a wide variety of literatures sharing a language but reflecting a rich and provocative diversity of histories experiences and attitudes to the shared world which still also divides us

Postmodern Plagiarisms Mirjam Horn, 2015-07-01 This monograph takes on the question of how literary plagiarism is defined exposed and sanctioned in Western culture and how appropriating language assigned to another author can be considered a radical subversive act in postmodern US American literature While various forms of art such as music painting or theater have come to institutionalize appropriation as a valid mode to ventilate what authorship originality and the anxiety of influence may mean the literary sphere still has a hard time acknowledging the unmarked acquisition of words ideas and manuscripts The author shows how postmodern plagiarism in particular serves as a literary strategy of appropriation at the interface between literary economics law and theoretical discourses of literature She investigates the complex expectations surrounding the strong link between an individual author subject and its alienable text a link that several postmodern writers powerfully question and violate Identifying three distinct practices of postmodern plagiarism the book examines their specific situatedness precepts and subversive potential as litmus tests for the literary market and the ongoing dynamic notion of the concepts authorship originality and creativity

Katherine Mansfield and the (Post)colonial Gerri Kimber, 2013-09-16 Explores Mansfield's identity as a post colonial writer in relation to her foremost reputation as a European modernist In seeking new possibilities for alignments with and resolutions to the contradictory agendas implied by the terms post colonial and modernist the essays in this volume address the clashing perspectives between Mansfield's life in Europe where her troubled self designation as the little colonial became a fertile source of her distinctive brand of literary modernism and her ongoing complex relationship with her New Zealand homeland The contributors investigate Mansfield's post colonial modernism in the context both of New Zealand settler colonial fiction and of her European literary inheritance Affinities with writers such as Edith Wharton and Robert Louis Stevenson reveal that home can be a diasporic place combining alienation with belonging The volume also registers initial responses to the widened scope for Mansfield scholarship launched by the first two volumes of the new Edinburgh Collected Works of Katherine Mansfield Includes Previously unpublished poetry and fiction Reports of current research findings on Katherine Mansfield An introduction by Janet Wilson Professor of English and Postcolonial Studies University of Northampton Reviews of recent publications on Mansfield and her contemporaries
