Desert in Modern Literature and Philosophy Tynan Aidan Tynan, 2020-06-18 Aidan Tynan provocatively rethinks some of the core assumptions of ecocriticism and the environmental humanities Showing the significance of deserts and wastelands in literature since the Romantics he argues that the desert has served to articulate anxieties over the cultural significance of space in the Anthropocene He explores the ways in which Nietzsche s warning that the desert grows has been taken up by Heidegger Derrida and Deleuze in their critiques of modernity And he looks at how the desert has been a terrain of desire over which the Western imagination of space and place has range in writings from T S Eliot to Don DeLillo from imperial travel writing to postmodernism and from the Old Testament to salvagepunk The Arabian Desert in English Travel Writing Since 1950 Jenny Walker, 2022-12-30 Broadly this book is about the Arabian desert as the locus of exploration by a long tradition of British travellers that includes T E Lawrence and Wilfred Thesiger more specifically it is about those who since 1950 have followed in their literary footsteps In analysing modern works covering a land greater than the sum of its geographical parts the discussion identifies outmoded tropes that continue to impinge upon the perception of the Middle East today while recognising that the laboured binaries of East and West desert and sown noble and savage have outrun their course Where however only a barren legacy of latent Orientalism may have been expected the author finds instead a rich seam of writing that exhibits diversity of purpose and insight contributing to contemporary discussions on travel and tourism intercultural representation and environmental awareness By addressing a lack of scholarly attention towards recent additions to the genre this study illustrates for the benefit of students of travel literature or indeed anyone interested in Arabia how desert writing under the emerging configurations of globalisation postcolonialism and ecocriticism acts as a microcosm of the kinds of ethical and emotional dilemmas confronting today s travel writers in the world s most extreme regions

Storied Deserts Celina Osuna,Aidan Tynan,2024-06-28 Storied Deserts makes a crucial and critical intervention in the field of environmental humanities by showcasing an emerging body of research on desert places from around the world Deserts despite dominant stereotypes of wasteland and barrenness are culturally and ecologically abundant places This edited volume sets out to reimagine the world s desert places and the very concept of the desert itself taking a boldly interdisciplinary and multicultural approach Authors engage in literary ecocriticism and ecopoetics film and visual studies critical theory personal and transdisciplinary reflection creative practices and historical scholarship Through their diverse range of perspectives contributors show how arid lands have been and can be understood as sites of narrative production places where signs and imaginaries are born from the materialities of space and entanglement In this way this volume highlights how the storied matter of the Earth s deserts informs lived realities environmental histories cinematic and literary imaginaries political conflicts and even intellectual categories such as the human and the elemental Ultimately this book shows that reimaging desert places can help us to grapple with the epochal challenges of the Anthropocene It is an important and engaging collection for scholars and students across disciplines that helps establish the value of desert humanities

Desert Roslynn D. Haynes,2013-11-15 Sand Cacti Lizards Mirages Deserts call to mind exotic places a sense of adventure and freedom but also thirst and desolation In Desert Roslynn D Haynes takes a fresh look at this geographical feature and cultural entity as it becomes an increasingly threatened environment Considering the immense geographical diversity of deserts from the Sahara to Antarctica Haynes explores the intriguing and often bizarre ways plants and animals adapt to such a hostile environment as well as the diverse peoples that have inhabited deserts and evolved unique lifestyles and cultures in response to their surroundings She asks why Judaism Christianity and Islam all originated in the deserts of the Middle East and traces the connections between the minimalism of desert existence and the pursuit of a spiritual dimension Finally she describes the allure deserts have exerted on the West the significance of desolate landscapes in literature and film and the revolution in artists responses to the desert as an empty space and as an inspiration for new visual techniques with which to view it Ending with a look at how commercial and military interests threaten desert ecologies Desert casts new light on our view of these seemingly barren places

Biopolitics of the More-Than-Human Joseph Pugliese, 2020-10-23 In Biopolitics of the More Than Human Joseph Pugliese examines the concept of the biopolitical through a nonanthropocentric lens arguing that more than human entities from soil and orchards to animals and water are actors and agents in their own right with legitimate claims to justice Examining occupied Palestine Guantanamo and sites of US drone strikes in Afghanistan

Pakistan Somalia and Yemen Pugliese challenges notions of human exceptionalism by arguing that more than human victims of war and colonialism are entangled with and subject to the same violent biopolitical regimes as humans He also draws on Indigenous epistemologies that invest more than human entities with judicial standing to argue for an ethico legal framework that will enable the realization of ecological justice Bringing the more than human world into the purview of justice Pugliese makes visible the ecological effects of human war that would otherwise remain outside the domains of biopolitics and law
