Africa and the Sustainable Development Goals Maano Ramutsindela, David Mickler, 2019-06-13 The book draws upon the expertise and international research collaborations forged by the Worldwide Universities Network Global Africa Group to critically engage with the intersection in theory and practice of the Sustainable Development Goals SDGs and Africa's development agendas and needs Further it argues that and demonstrates how the SDGs should be understood as an aspirational blueprint for development with multiple meanings that are situated in dynamic and contested terrains As the SDGs have substantial implications for development policy and resourcing at both the macro and micro levels their relevance is not only context specific but should also be assessed in terms of the aspirations and needs of ordinary citizens across the continent Drawing on analyses and evidence from both the natural and social sciences the book demonstrates that progress towards the SDGs must meet demands for improving human well being under diverse and challenging socio economic political and environmental conditions Examples include those from the mining industry public health employment and the media In closing it highlights how international collaboration in the form of research networks can enhance the production of critical knowledge on and engagement with the SDGs in Africa

The Nanotechnology Revolution Dale A.

Stirling, 2018-01-17 Nanotechnology is changing the world in a very big way but at the atomic and sub atomic level Although the roots of nanotechnology can be traced back to more than a century ago the last three decades have witnessed an explosion of nano based technologies and products This reference work examines the history current status and future directions of nanotechnology through an exhaustive search of the technical and scientific literature The more than 4000 bibliographic citations it includes are carefully organized into core subject areas and a geographic and subject index allows readers to quickly locate documents of interest Although a sense of the global reach and interest in nanotechnology can be gleaned from the reference sections of countless journal articles conference papers and books this is the only reference work providing an in depth global perspective that is ready made for nanotechnology professionals and those interested in learning more about all things nanotechnology Despite the abundance of online resources there is still an urgent need for well researched well presented concise and thematically organized reference works Instead of relying on wiki pages citation aggregators and related websites the author searched the databases and databanks of scholarly literature search providers such as EBSCO ProQuest PUBMED STN International and Thomson Reuters In addition he used select serials related databases to account for pertinent documents from countries in which English is not the primary national language i e China Online Journals e periodica J STAGE and SciELO Brazil among others

The African Mother Tongue and Mathematical

Ideas Abdul Karim Bangura, 2020-06-02 This book by renowned scholar Dr Abdul Karim Bangura combines linguistics and mathematics to show how and why African centred mathematical ideas can be a driving force in Africa's development efforts

Bangura explores the concept that Africa has been the centre of the History of Mathematics for thousands of years as the civilizations that emerged across the continent developed contributions which would enrich both ancient and modern understanding of nature through mathematics. However, scholars and other professionals working in the field of mathematics education in Africa have identified a plethora of issues in carrying out their tasks. This is highlighted by one of the most compelling arguments in the book which is that a major reason for these problems is the fact that the African mother tongues have been greatly neglected in the teaching of mathematics in the continent. Bangura asserts that a change has to be made in order for Africa to benefit from the exceptional opportunities mathematics offer, showing that even if there is a great body of work connecting linguistics and mathematics, few analyses have been performed on the link between African languages and mathematics and the ones that have been made are not theoretically grounded on linguistics. Thus, the book begins by identifying the objects of study of linguistics and mathematics and delineates which ones they have in common. Next, since the object of study of linguistics is language, the nine design features of language are employed to examine each of the objects as it pertains to African languages. After that, mathematical ideas of sustainability and those of tipping points are suggested as means to help Africa's development efforts.

Research in Chemistry Education Liliana Mammìno, Jan Apotheker, 2021-05-17 This volume emphasizes the role of chemical education for development and in particular for sustainable development in Africa by sharing experiences among specialists across the African continent and with specialists from other continents. It considers all areas and levels of chemistry education, gives specific attention to known major challenges and encourages explorations of novel approaches. The chapters in this book describe new teaching approaches, approach explorations and in-class activities, analyse educational challenges and possible ways of addressing them and explore cross-discipline possibilities and their potential benefits for chemistry education. This makes the volume an up-to-date compendium for chemistry educators and educational researchers worldwide.
