Dark Ecology For A Logic Of Future Coexistence The Wellek Library Lectures:

Dark Ecology Timothy Morton, 2016-04-12 Timothy Morton argues that ecological awareness in the present Anthropocene era takes the form of a strange loop or Möbius strip twisted to have only one side Deckard travels this oedipal path in Blade Runner 1982 when he learns that he might be the enemy he has been ordered to pursue Ecological awareness takes this shape because ecological phenomena have a loop form that is also fundamental to the structure of how things are The logistics of agricultural society resulted in global warming and hardwired dangerous ideas about life forms into the human mind Dark ecology puts us in an uncanny position of radical self knowledge illuminating our place in the biosphere and our belonging to a species in a sense that is far less obvious than we like to think Morton explores the logical foundations of the ecological crisis which is suffused with the melancholy and negativity of coexistence yet evolving as we explore its loop form into something playful anarchic and comedic His work is a skilled fusion of humanities and scientific scholarship incorporating the theories and findings of philosophy anthropology literature ecology biology and physics Morton hopes to reestablish our ties to nonhuman beings and to help us rediscover the playfulness and joy that can brighten the dark strange loop we traverse

Coexistentialism and the Unbearable Intimacy of Ecological Emergency Sam Mickey, 2016-07-29 The philosophy of existentialism is undergoing an ecological renewal as global warming mass extinction and other signs of the planetary scale of human actions are making it glaringly apparent that existence is always ecological coexistence One of the most urgent problems in the current ecological emergency is that humans cannot bear to face the emergency Its earth shattering implications are ignored in favor of more solutions fixes and sustainability transitions Solutions cannot solve much when they cannot face what it means to be human amidst unprecedented uncertainty and intimate interconnectedness Attention to such uncertainty and interconnectedness is what ecological existentialism Deborah Bird Rose or coexistentialism Timothy Morton is all about This book follows Rose Morton and many others e g Jean Luc Nancy Peter Sloterdijk and Luce Irigaray who are currently taking up the styles of thinking conveyed in existentialism renewing existentialist affirmations of experience paradox uncertainty and ambiguity and extending existentialism beyond humans to include attention to the uniqueness and strangeness of all beings all humans and nonhumans woven into ecological coexistence Along the way coexistentialism finds productive alliances and tensions amidst many areas of inquiry including ecocriticism ecological humanities object oriented ontology feminism phenomenology deconstruction new materialism and more This is a book for anyone who seeks to refute cynicism and loneliness and affirm coexistence

Genetics and the Literary Imagination Clare Hanson, 2020-05-06 Oxford Textual Perspectives is a series of informative and provocative studies focused upon literary texts conceived of in the broadest sense of that term and the technologies cultures and communities that produce inform and receive them It provides fresh interpretations of fundamental works and of the vital and challenging issues emerging in English literary studies By engaging with the materiality of the literary text its production and reception history and frequently testing and exploring the boundaries of the notion of text itself the volumes in the series question familiar frameworks and provide innovative interpretations of both canonical and less well known works This is the first book to explore the dramatic impact of genetics on literary fiction over the past four decades After James Watson and Francis Crick's discovery of the structure of DNA in 1953 and the subsequent cracking of the genetic code a gene centric discourse developed which had a major impact not only on biological science but on wider culture As figures like E O Wilson and Richard Dawkins popularised the neo Darwinian view that behaviour was driven by genetic self interest novelists were both compelled and unnerved by such a vision of the origins and ends of life This book maps the ways in which Doris Lessing A S Byatt Ian McEwan and Kazuo Ishiguro wrestled with the reductionist neo Darwinian account of human nature and with the challenge it posed to humanist beliefs about identity agency and morality It argues that these novelists were alienated to varying degrees by neo Darwinian arguments but that the recent shift to postgenomic science has enabled a greater rapprochement between biological and post humanist concepts of human nature The postgenomic view of organisms as agentic and interactive is echoed in the life writing of Margaret Drabble and Jackie Kay which also explores the ethical implications of this holistic biological perspective As advances in postgenomics especially epigenetics provoke increasing public interest and concern this book offers a timely analysis of debates that have fundamentally altered our understanding of what it means to be human

Postcolonial Lack Gautam Basu Thakur, 2020-03-16 Postcolonial Lack reconvenes dialogue between Lacanian psychoanalysis and postcolonial theory in order to expand the range of cultural analyses of the former and make the latter theoretically relevant to the demands of contemporary narratives of othering exclusion and cultural appropriation Seeking to resolve the mutual suspicion between the disciplines Gautam Basu Thakur draws out the connections existing between Lacan's teachings on subjectivity and otherness and writings of postcolonial and decolonial theorists such as Gayatri Spivak Frantz Fanon and Homi Bhabha By developing new readings of the marginalized other as radical impasse and pushing the envelope on neoliberal identity politics the book moves postcolonial studies away from the perennial topic of identity and difference and into examining the form and function of the other as excess surplus and or lack in colonial and postcolonial literature film and social discourse Looking at writings by Mahasweta Devi Amitav Ghosh Leila Aboulela Narayan Gangopadhyay Katherine Boo and films by Gillo Pontecorvo Clint Eastwood Ryan Coogler Black Panther and Tony Gatlif Basu Thakur highlights a new set of ethical and political considerations emerging as a direct result of this shift and stakes a fundamental rethinking of postcoloniality through what he calls the politics of ontological discordance

Weathering Christoph F. E. Holzhey, Arnd Wedemeyer, 2020-10-06 Weathering is atmospheric geological temporal transformative It implies exposure to the elements and processes of wearing down disintegration or accrued patina Weathering can also denote the ways in which subjects and objects resist and pass through storms and adversity This volume contemplates weathering across many fields and disciplines its contributions examine various surfaces environments scales

Environmental Justice in the Anthropocene Stacia Ryder, Kathryn Powlen, Melinda Laituri, Stephanie A. Malin, Joshua Sbicca, Dimitris Stevis, 2021-06-09 Through various international case studies presented by both practitioners and scholars Environmental Justice in the Anthropocene explores how an environmental justice approach is necessary for reflections on inequality in the Anthropocene and for forging societal transitions toward a more just and sustainable future Environmental justice is a central component of sustainability politics during the Anthropocene the current geological age in which human activity is the dominant influence on climate and the environment Every aspect of sustainability politics requires a close analysis of equity implications including problematizing the notion that humans as a collective are equally responsible for ushering in this new epoch Environmental justice provides us with the tools to critically investigate the drivers and characteristics of this era and the debates over the inequitable outcomes of the Anthropocene for historically marginalized peoples The contributors to this volume focus on a critical approach to power and issues of environmental injustice across time space and context drawing from twelve national contexts Austria Bangladesh Chile China India Nicaragua Hungary Mexico Brazil Sweden Tanzania and the United States Beyond highlighting injustices the volume highlights forward facing efforts at building just transitions with a goal of identifying practical steps to connect theory and movement and envision an environmentally and ecologically just future This interdisciplinary work will be of great interest to students scholars and practitioners focused on conservation environmental politics and governance environmental and earth sciences environmental sociology environment and planning environmental justice and global sustainability and governance It will also be of interest to social and environmental justice advocates and activists

Cybernetics and the Constructed Environment Zihao Zhang, 2024-07-24 Grounded in contemporary landscape architecture theory and practice Cybernetics and the Constructed Environment blends examples from art design and engineering with concepts from cybernetics and posthumanism offering a transdisciplinary examination of the ramifications of cybernetics on the constructed environment Cybernetics or the study of communication and control in animals and machines has grown increasingly relevant nearly 80 years after its inception Cyber physical systems sensing networks and spatial computing algorithms and intelligent machines create endless feedback loops with human and non human actors co producing a cybernetic environment Yet when an ecosystem is meticulously managed by intelligent machines can we still call it wild nature Posthumanism ideas such as new materialism actor network theory and object oriented ontology have become increasingly popular among design disciplines including landscape architecture and may have provided transformative frameworks to understand this entangled reality However design still entails a sense of intentionality and an urge to control How do we then address the tension between the designer's intentionality and the co produced reality of more than human agents in the cybernetic environment Is posthumanism enough to develop a framework to think beyond our all too human ways of thinking For researchers scholars practitioners and students in environmental design and engineering disciplines this book maps out a paradigm of environmentalism and ecological design rooted in non communication and uncontrollability and puts a speculative turn on cybernetics Chapters 8 and 9 of this book are freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license

The Terrible Children of Modernity Peter Sloterdijk, 2025-06-10 Peter Sloterdijk is among the most acclaimed and widely read philosophers of the past half century Called Germany's most controversial thinker by the New Yorker he has challenged and provoked readers worldwide with extraordinarily ambitious and wide ranging works of philosophical and cultural critique In The Terrible Children of Modernity Sloterdijk offers a magisterial and profound investigation into the vicissitudes of historical change and the nature of modernity For Sloterdijk modernity is defined by its need to break with the past Moderns are perpetual rebels who seek to sever the ties of tradition and forms of inheritance that bind generations and eras together With deep philosophical historical and literary range he traces this antigenealogical experiment from the French Revolution onward from Madame de Pompadour and Napoleon through Nietzsche Marx Wagner the Dadaists and Deleuze Acutely aware of the destructive potential of cultural discontinuities Sloterdijk is no less critical of the fathers who condemn change than the terrible children who seek a drastic rupture with their predecessors Equally concerned with the grand sweep of history and our current predicaments he instead calls for new ways to live together in the intersubjectivity of the human condition Incisive and daring breathtaking in its scope this account of youthful rebellion against tradition asks us to reimagine the ethics of genealogy

Anglophone Literature and Culture in the Anthropocene Gina Comos, Caroline Rosenthal, 2019-05-02 Defined as an ecological epoch in which humans have the most impact on the environment the Anthropocene poses challenging questions to literary and cultural studies If in the Anthropocene the distinction between nature and culture increasingly collapses we have to rethink our division between historiography and natural history as well as notions of the subject and of agency since the Enlightenment This anthology collects papers from literary and cultural studies that address various issues surrounding the topic Even though the new epoch seems to require a collective self understanding as a unified species readings of the Anthropocene and conceptualizations of human nature relationships largely differ in Anglophone literatures and cultures These differing perspectives are reflected in the structure of this book which is divided into five separate sections the introductory part familiarizes the reader with the concept and the challenges it poses for the humanities in general and for literary and cultural studies in particular and the three following sections combine broader more theoretical essays with in depth critical readings of US Canadian and Australian representations of the Anthropocene in literature The final part moves beyond literature to include media theoretical perspectives and discussions of photography and cinema in the Anthropocene

Philosophical Difference and Advanced Computation in Architectural Theory Jefferson Ellinger, 2021-09-30 This book presents a new take on the evolution of digital design theories in architecture from modernity to today as they have been inspired both by contemporary philosophy and the emergence and access to advanced computation. It focuses on how concepts of difference in philosophy transformed architectural design theory and takes on even more significance with the introduction and ubiquitous use of computers within the discipline, changing the architectural design paradigm forever. Beginning with a presentation of American Pragmatism's push towards process, the book continues on to Husserl's influence on the modern movement, mid-century phenomenology, post-structuralist Derridean exchanges with architects, the Deleuzian influence on the smoothing of form, and finally contemporary architectural references to speculative realism. Analyzing the arc of design theory as influenced by philosophical and computational logics, this book presents the transformation to contemporary design approaches that includes more biology, more data, and more information moving from less is more to From Less to More. Philosophical Difference and Advanced Computation in Architectural Theory is an influential read for students and academics of architectural theory, computational design, and related areas.
