Democratisation in the 21st Century Mohammad-Mahmoud Ould Mohamedou, Timothy D. Sisk, 2016-10-04 The 2010 s was a critical period in the continuing established trend of the spread of democracy worldwide from the Arab Spring countries of Tunisia Libya Egypt and Yemen to the unfolding turmoil of Myanmar and Ukraine by way of the upheavals in Burkina Faso Senegal and Ivory Coast social mobilisation against autocratic corrupt or military regimes has precipitated political transitions that are characteristic of democratisation This book examines the state of democratisation theory and practice that reopens and revives the democratic transition debate exploring the factors that lead to the demise of

Citizen Support for Democratic and Autocratic Regimes Marlene Mauk, 2020-04-30 Citizen Support for Democratic and Autocratic Regimes takes a political culture perspective on the struggle between democracy and autocracy by examining how these regimes fare in the eyes of their citizens Taking a globally comparative approach it studies both the levels as well as the individual and system level sources of political support in democracies and autocracies worldwide The book develops an explanatory model of regime support which includes both individual and system level determinants and specifies not only the general causal mechanisms and pathways through which these determinants affect regime support but also spells out how these effects might vary between the two types of regimes It empirically tests its propositions using multi level structural equation modeling and a comprehensive dataset that combines recent public opinion data from six cross national survey projects with aggregate data from various sources for more than 100 democracies and autocracies It finds that both the levels and individual level sources of regime support are the same in democracies and autocracies but that the way in which system level context factors affect regime support differs between the two types of regimes The results enhance our understanding of what determines citizen support for fundamentally different regimes help assessing the present and future stability of democracies and autocracies and provide clear policy implications to those interested in strengthening support for democracy and or fostering democratic change in autocracies Comparative Politics is a series for researchers teachers and students of political science that deals with contemporary government and politics Global in scope books in the series are characterised by a stress on comparative analysis and strong methodological rigour The series is published in association with the European Consortium for Political Research For more information visit www.ecprnet.eu The series is edited by Susan Scarrow Chair of the Department of Political Science University of Houston and Jonathan Slapin Professor Department of Political Science University of Zurich

Inequality and Democratic Politics in East Asia Chong-Min Park, Eric M. Uslaner, 2019-07-31 Bringing together scholars of inequality both inside and outside of Asia this book examines how the distribution of income has affected political institutions representation and behaviour in Asia Through detailed data analysis the international team of contributors engages with the existing literature arguing that the connection between inequality and political institutions is much more complex than has been suggested by previous studies from outside the region Instead Inequality and Democratic Politics in East Asia demonstrates that the micro level evidence for the correlation between inequality and democracy is mixed and the impact of distributive politics is conditioned not only by institutional but also by historical and geopolitical factors As such this volume suggests that the median voter theorem and simplified partisan models prove to be ineffectual in accounting for distributive politics in East Asia Analysing history structure and context to further understand the politics of inequality in East Asia this book will be invaluable to students of Asian politics as well as students of inequality democracy and political economy more widely

Plattner, 2014-04-01 Three years after the first mass protests of the Arab Spring senior scholars weigh in on how democracy is faring Beginning in December 2010 a series of uprisings swept the Arab world toppling four longtime leaders and creating an apparent political opening in a region long impervious to the third wave of democratization Despite the initial euphoria the legacies of authoritarianism polarized societies politicized militaries state centric economies and pervasive clientelism have proven stubborn obstacles to the fashioning of new political and social contracts Meanwhile the strong electoral performance of political Islamists and the ensuing backlash in Egypt have rekindled arguments about the compatibility of democracy and political Islam Even though progress toward democracy has been halting at best the region's political environment today bears little resemblance to what it was before the uprisings In Democratization and Authoritarianism in the Arab World leading scholars address the questions posed by this period of historic change in the Middle East and North Africa This volume includes chapters examining several broad themes the region s shifting political culture the relationship between democracy and political Islam the legacy of authoritarian ruling arrangements the strengths and vulnerabilities of remaining autocracies and the lessons learned from transitions to democracy in other parts of the world It also features chapters analyzing the political development of individual countries Algeria Bahrain Egypt Jordan Libya Morocco Saudi Arabia Syria Tunisia Yemen and the monarchies of the Gulf Contributors Hicham Ben Abdallah El Alaoui April Longley Alley Zoltan Barany Ahmed Benchemsi Mieczysław P Boduszyński Nathan J Brown Jason Brownlee Daniel Brumberg John M Carey Michele Dunne Abdou Filali Ansary Hillel Fradkin F Gregory Gause III Husain Haqqani Steven Heydemann Philip N Howard Muzammil M Hussain Amaney Jamal Stéphane Lacroix Juan J Linz Tarek Masoud Marc F Plattner Tarek Radwan Hamadi Redissi Andrew Reynolds Michael Robbins Olivier Roy Peter J Schraeder Alfred Stepan Mark Tessler Frédéric Volpi Lucan Way Frédéric Wehrey Sean L Yom
