Calendar Arabic And English 2015:

The Routledge Handbook of Arabic Translation Sameh Hanna, Hanem El-Farahaty, Abdel-Wahab Khalifa, 2019-12-09

Translation related activities from and into Arabic have significantly increased in the last few years in both scope and scale. The launch of a number of national translation projects, policies and awards in a number of Arab countries together with the increasing translation from Arabic in a wide range of subject areas outside the Arab World especially in the aftermath of the Arab Spring have complicated and diversified the dynamics of the translation industry involving Arabic. The Routledge Handbook of Arabic Translation seeks to explicate Arabic translation practice, pedagogy and scholarship with the aim of producing a state of the art reference book that maps out these areas and meets the pedagogical and research needs of advanced undergraduate and postgraduate students as well as active researchers.

Space Science and the Arab World

Jörg Matthias Determann, 2018-01-29 When Sultan bin Salman left Earth on the shuttle Discovery in 1985 he became the first Arab, first Muslim and first member of a royal family in space. Twenty five years later the discovery of a planet 500 light years away by the Qatar Exoplanet Survey subsequently named Qatar 1b was evidence of the cutting edge space science projects taking place across the Middle East. This book identifies the individuals, institutions and national ideologies that enabled Arab astronomers and researchers to gain support for space exploration when Middle East governments lacked interest. Jörg Matthias Determann shows that the conquest of space became associated with national prestige, security, economic growth and the idea of an Arab renaissance. More generally, equally important to this success were international collaborations to benefit from American and Soviet expertise and technology. Arab scientists and officials had to commit to global governance of space and the common interests of humanity. Challenging the view that the golden age of Arabic science and cosmopolitanism was situated in the medieval period, Determann tells the story of the new discoveries and scientific collaborations taking place from the 19th century to the present day. An innovative contribution to Middle East studies and history of science, the book also appeals to increased business, media and political interest in the Arab space industry.

Linguistic Issues and Quality Assessment of English-Arabic Audiovisual Translation

Ahmad Khuddro, 2019-01-17 Due to a dearth of academic references in the area of English-Arabic audiovisual translation (AVT), this book represents a unique resource in that it explores dubbing and subtitling into Arabic, a topic hardly discussed among academics both in the Arab world and worldwide. The book starts with some linguistic and audiovisual background and lays new foundations for a discussion about the similarities between the translation of drama texts and AVT. It then moves on to highlight some grammatical, syntactic, semantic and functional challenges faced in subtitling, with examples from various recent audiovisual material, as deictics, exophora, idiomatic language, register, negation, duality and plurality and subject predicate agreement in the target subtitled text The book's originality is manifest in its investigation of the obstacles encountered by new anonymous subtitlers by providing evidence in the form of genuine samples of their work The book concludes with some original subtitling quality assessment reports and presents effective strategies of subtitling

Philipp E. Nothaft, 2018-02-09 The Gregorian calendar reform of 1582 which provided the basis for the civil and Western ecclesiastical calendars still in use today has often been seen as a triumph of early modern scientific culture or an expression of papal ambition in the wake of the Counter Reformation Much less attention has been paid to reform's intellectual roots in the European Middle Ages when the reckoning of time by means of calendrical cycles was a topic of central importance to learned culture as impressively documented by the survival of relevant texts and tables in thousands of manuscripts copied before 1500 For centuries prior to the Gregorian reform astronomers mathematicians theologians and even Church councils had been debating the necessity of improving or emending the existing ecclesiastical calendar which throughout the Middle Ages kept losing touch with the astronomical phenomena at an alarming pace Scandalous Error is the first comprehensive study of the medieval literature devoted to the calendar problem and its cultural and scientific contexts It examines how the importance of ordering liturgical time by means of a calendar that comprised both solar and lunar components posed a technical astronomical problem to medieval society and details the often sophisticated ways in which computists and churchmen reacted to this challenge By drawing attention to the numerous connecting paths that existed between calendars and mathematical astronomy between the Fall of Rome and the end of the fifteenth century the volume offers substantial new insights on the place of exact science in medieval culture The Oxford Handbook of Thomas More's Utopia , 2023-11-15 Thomas More's Utopia is one of the most iconic translated and influential texts of the European Renaissance This Handbook of specially commissioned and original essays brings together for the first time three different ways of thinking about the book in terms of its renaissance contexts its vernacular translations and its utopian legacies It has been developed to allow readers to consider these different facets of Utopia in relation to each other and to provide fresh and original contributions to our understanding of the book's creation vernacularization and afterlives In so doing it provides an integrated overview of More's text as well as new contributions to the range of scholarship and debates that Utopia continues to attract. An especially innovative feature is that it allows readers to follow Utopia across time and place unpacking the often revolutionary moments that encouraged its translation by new generations of writers as far afield as France, Russia, Japan and China. The Handbook is organized in four sections on different aspects of the origins and contexts of Utopia in the 1510s, on histories of its translation into different vernaculars in the early modern and modern eras and on various manifestations of utopianism up to the present day. The Handbook's Introduction outlines the biography of More, the key strands of interpretation and criticism relating to the text, the structure of the Handbook and some of its recurring themes and issues. An appendix provides an overview of Utopia for readers new to the text.

Channeling Moroccanness Becky L. Schulthies, 2020-12-01. Honorable Mention 2022 L. Carl Brown AIMS Book Prize in North African Studies. What does it mean to connect as a people through mass media? This book approaches that question by exploring how Moroccans engage communicative failure as they seek to shape social and political relations in urban Fez. Over the last decade, laments of language and media failure in Fez have focused not just on social relations that used to be and have been lost, but also on what ought to be and had yet to be realized. Such laments have transpired in a range of communication channels, from objects such as devotional prayer beads and remote controls to interactional forms such as storytelling, dress styles and orthography to media platforms like television news, religious stations or WhatsApp group chats. Channeling Moroccanness examines these laments as ways of speaking that created Moroccanness: the feeling of participating in the ongoing formations of Moroccan relationality. Rather than furthering the discourse about Morocco's conflict between liberal secularists and religious conservatives, this ethnography shows the subtle range of ideologies and practices evoked in Fassi homes to calibrate Moroccan sociality and political consciousness.
