Speechreading by Humans and Machines David G. Stork, Marcus E. Hennecke, 2013-11-11 This book is one outcome of the NATO Advanced Studies Institute ASI Workshop Speechreading by Man and Machine held at the Chateau de Bonas Castera Verduzan near Auch France from August 28 to September 8 1995 the first interdisciplinary meeting devoted the subject of speechreading lipreading The forty five attendees from twelve countries covered the gamut of speechreading research from brain scans of humans processing bi modal stimuli to psychophysical experiments and illusions to statistics of comprehension by the normal and deaf communities to models of human perception to computer vision and learning algorithms and hardware for automated speechreading machines The first week focussed on speechreading by humans the second week by machines a general organization that is preserved in this volume After the inevitable difficulties in clarifying language and terminology across disciplines as diverse as human neurophysiology audiology psychology electrical engineering mathematics and computer science the participants engaged in lively discussion and debate We think it is fair to say that there was an atmosphere of excitement and optimism for a field that is both fascinating and potentially lucrative Of the many general results that can be taken from the workshop

two of the key ones are these The ways in which humans employ visual image for speech recognition are manifold and complex and depend upon the talker perceiver pair severity and age of onset of any hearing loss whether the topic of conversation is known or unknown the level of noise and so forth

The Vatican to Vegas Norman M. Klein, 2024-10-27 A guided tour through the nuanced politics of architectural illusion The Vatican to Vegas takes the reader from lavish Baroque fantasies of the seventeenth century to the Electronic Baroque of today The scripted spaces described by Norman M Klein are punctuated with devices widely used in special effects since 1500 shocks surprise twists grand fakes and copies Since its first publication 2004 The Vatican To Vegas has emerged as a classic across many fields from media and architecture to the fine arts and urban planning Its timing was ironic Klein assumed in 2004 that the future of scripted illusion was about to radically shift This new edition brings the ironic story up to the present and into the digitally overwhelmed scripted spaces of the future
