Cinematic Cold War The American And Soviet Struggle For Hearts And Minds:

Cinematic Cold War Tony Shaw, Denise Jeanne Youngblood, 2010 The first book length survey of cinema's vital role in the Cold War cultural combat between the U S and the USSR Focuses on 10 films five American and five Soviet both iconic and lesser known works showing that cinema provided a crucial outlet for the global debate between democratic and communist ideologies

Cinematic Cold War Tony Shaw, Denise J. Youngblood, 2014-08-15 The Cold War was as much a battle of ideas as a series of military and diplomatic confrontations and movies were a prime battleground for this cultural combat As Tony Shaw and Denise Youngblood show Hollywood sought to export American ideals in movies like Rambo and the Soviet film industry fought back by showcasing Communist ideals in a positive light primarily for their own citizens The two camps traded cinematic blows for more than four decades The first book length comparative survey of cinema's vital role in disseminating Cold War ideologies Shaw and Youngblood's study focuses on ten films five American and five Soviet that in both obvious and subtle ways provided a crucial outlet for the global debate between democratic and communist ideologies For each nation the authors outline industry leaders structure audiences politics and international reach and explore the varied relationships linking each film industry to its respective government They then present five comparative case studies each pairing an American with a Soviet film Man on a Tightrope with The Meeting on the Elbe Roman Holiday with Spring on Zarechnaya Street Fail Safe with Nine Days in One Year Bananas with Officers Rambo First Blood Part II with Incident at Map Grid 36 80 Shaw breathes new life into familiar American films by Elia Kazan and Woody Allen while Youngblood helps readers comprehend Soviet films most have never seen Collectively their commentaries track the Cold War in its entirety from its formative phase through periods of thaw and self doubt to the resurgence of mutual animosity during the Reagan years and enable readers to identify competing core propaganda themes such as decadence versus morality technology versus humanity and freedom versus authority As the authors show such themes blurred notions regarding propaganda and entertainment terms that were often interchangeable and mutually reinforcing during the Cold War Featuring engaging commentary and evocative images from the films discussed Cinematic Cold War offers a shrewd analysis of how the silver screen functioned on both sides of the Iron Curtain As such it should have great appeal for anyone interested in the Cold War or the cinematic arts

Cinematic Terror Tony Shaw, 2014-11-20 The first history of cinema's treatment of terrorism from the birth of film to today

Cinema, State Socialism and Society in the Soviet Union and Eastern Europe, 1917-1989 Sanja Bahun, John Haynes, 2014-07-25 This book presents a comprehensive re examination of the cinemas of the Soviet Union and Central and Eastern Europe during the communist era It argues that since the end of communism in these countries film scholars are able to view these cinemas in a different way no longer bound by an outlook relying on binary Cold War terms With the opening of archives in Eastern Europe and the former Soviet Union much more is known about these states and societies at the same time the field has been reinvigorated by its opening up to more contemporary concepts themes and approaches in film studies and adjacent disciplines Taking stock of these developments this book presents a rich varied tapestry relating specific films to specific national and transnational circumstances rather than viewing them as a single monolithic Cold War Communist cinema

Hollywood Exiles in Europe Rebecca Prime, 2014-01-14 Rebecca Prime documents the untold story of the American directors screenwriters and actors who exiled themselves to Europe as a result of the Hollywood blacklist During the 1950s and 1960s these Hollywood migr s directed wrote or starred in almost one hundred European productions their contributions ranging from crime film masterpieces like Du rififi chez les hommes 1955 Jules Dassin director to international blockbusters like The Bridge on the River Kwai 1957 Carl Foreman and Michael Wilson screenwriters and acclaimed art films like The Servant 1963 Joseph Losey director At once a lively portrait of a lesser known American lost generation and an examination of an important transitional moment in European cinema the book offers a compelling argument for the significance of the blacklisted migr s to our understanding of postwar American and European cinema and Cold War relations Prime provides detailed accounts of the production and reception of their European films that clarify the ambivalence with which Hollywood was regarded within postwar European culture Drawing upon extensive archival research including previously classified material Hollywood Exiles in Europe suggests the need to rethink our understanding of the Hollywood blacklist as a purely domestic phenomenon By shedding new light on European cinema s changing relationship with Hollywood the book illuminates the postwar shift from national to transnational cinema experiences and cultural formation Iron Curtain Twitchers Jennifer M. Hudson, 2018-11-23 The Cold War is often viewed in absolutist terminology the United States and the Soviet Union characterized one another in oppositional rhetoric and pejorative propaganda State sanctioned communications stressed the inherent dissimilarity between their own citizens and those of their Cold War foe Such rhetoric exacerbated geopolitical tensions and heightened Cold War paranoia most notably during the Red Scare and brinkmanship incidents Government leaders stressed the reactive defensive foreign policies they implemented to retaliate against their counterparts offensive maneuvers Only brief periods of détente gave glimpses into the possibility of concerted peaceful coexistence Yet such characterizations neglect the complexities and rhetorical nuances that created fissures throughout the long standing ideological conflict Grassroots diplomacy rarely coalesced with official governmental rhetoric and often contradicted the discourse emanating from the White House and the Kremlin Organizations such as Women Strike for Peace WSP the Committee for Nonviolent Action CNVA and the Moscow Trust Group MTG defied policy directives and sought to establish genuine peaceful coexistence Traveling citizens posited that U S and Soviet citizens possessed more underlying commonalities than their governmental leaders cared to admit phenomena underscored in events such as the San Francisco to Moscow Walk for Peace Spacebridge programs railed against the Strategic Defense Initiative SDI and proclaimed that figurative and literal links between their country and the Other proved more conducive to public opinion than Star Wars Iron Curtain Twitchers examines such juxtaposing rhetorics through three lexical themes contamination containment and coexistence It analyzes the disparate perspectives of public politicians and private citizens throughout the Cold War's duration and its aftermath to better understand the political cultural and geopolitical nuances of U S Russia relations Vacillating rhetoric among politicians journalists and traveling citizens complicated geopolitical relationships sociopolitical disagreements and cultural characterizations These dialogues are contrasted with the cultural mediums of film and political cartoons to underscore fluctuating Cold War identity dynamics Manifestations of one's own country contrasted with propagations of the Other and indicate that the Cold War lasted much longer and remains more virulent than previously conceived
