Journalism, Data and Technology in Latin America Ramón Salaverría, Mathias-Felipe de-Lima-Santos, 2021-06-09 This book explores innovative approaches to digital and data journalism in Latin America brought by both legacy media and newcomers to the industry with the purpose of examining this changing media landscape As part of the Global South Latin America has shown significant influence in the promotion of data and digital technologies applied to journalism in recent years In this region news entrepreneurs are becoming an essential source of innovation in news production circulation and distribution The book considers news media particularly in Latin America as an open set of practices intertwined in the evolution of technology It discusses the transformation of the Latin American news media ecosystem and considers how it has shaped the industry despite local differences The study fills a significant gap in academic scholarship by addressing the multiple external factors mainly political and economic which have contributed to the relative lack of studies on the patterns of journalism in this region

Data Journalism and the COVID-19 Disruption Jingrong Tong, 2024-07-30

Data Journalism and the COVID 19 Disruption offers an international multidisciplinary account of how and to what extent the COVID 19 pandemic has been a blessing for data journalism. Bringing together insights into current developments in data journalism during and since the onset of the COVID 19 pandemic from world leading data journalism practitioners and academics, this book draws on case studies and examples from different countries to critically reflect on emerging data journalism practices during the pandemic and their sustainability and implications for journalism and newsroom work in the post pandemic era. The chapters document changes in the practice and integration of data journalism into newsrooms and the 24/7 news cycle after the unexpected onset of the pandemic and explore how newsrooms and journalists are coping with the sudden and immense demand for data journalism and related challenges. This book also scrutinises the implications for understanding the roles played by newsroom structure and operation, the uncertain nature of data and the relationship between journalism and other social entities such as audiences and the state in journalism's development through times of crisis. Offering a timely contribution to the discussions on how data journalism evolved during a time of crisis, this volume will appeal to scholars and students of data journalism, journalism practice, media and communication studies and media industry studies.
