Hollywood or History? Scott L. Roberts, Charles J. Elfer, 2021-01-01 The challenges of teaching history are acute where we consider the world history classroom Generalized world history courses are a part of many if not most K 12 curricular frameworks in the United States While United States history tends to dominate the scholarship and conversation there are an equally wide number of middle level and secondary students and teachers engaged in the study of world history in our public schools And the challenges are real In the first place if we are to mark content coverage as a curricular obstacle in the history classroom generally then we must underscore that concern in the world history classroom and for obvious reasons The curricular terrain to choose from is immense and forever expanding dealing with the development of numerous civilizations over millennia and across a wide geographic expanse In addition to curricular concerns world historical topics are inherently farther away from most students lives not just temporally but often geographically and culturally Thus the rationale for the present text Hollywood or History An Inquiry Based Strategy for Using Film to Teach World History The reviews of the first volume Hollywood or History An Inquiry Based Strategy for Using Film to Teach United States History strategy have been overwhelmingly positive especially as it pertains to the application of the strategy for practitioner Classroom utility and teacher practice have remained our primary objectives in developing the Hollywood or History strategy and we are encouraged by the possibilities of Volume II and the capacity of this most recent text to impact teaching and learning in world history We believe that students connection to film along with teachers ability to use film in an effective manner will help alleviate some of the challenges of teaching world history The book provides 30 secondary lesson plans grades 6 12 that address nine eras in world history

Teaching Recent Global History Diana B. Turk, Laura J. Dull, Robert Cohen, Michael R. Stoll, 2014-03-05 Teaching Recent Global History explores innovative ways to teach world history beginning with the early 20th century The authors unique approach unites historians social studies teachers and educational curriculum specialists to offer historically rich pedagogically innovative and academically rigorous lessons that help students connect with and deeply understand key events and trends in recent global history Highlighting the best scholarship for each major continent the text explores the ways that this scholarship can be adapted by teachers in the classroom in order to engage and inspire students Each of the eight main chapters highlights a particularly important event or theme which is then complemented by a detailed discussion of a particular methodological approach Key features include An overarching narrative that helps readers address historical arguments Relevant primary documents or artifacts plus a discussion of a particular historical method well suited to teaching about them Lesson plans suitable for both middle and secondary level classrooms Document based questions and short bibliographies for further research on the topic This invaluable book is ideal for any aspiring or current teacher who wants to think critically about how to teach world history and make historical discussions come alive for students
