

cal height which approximates the nominal position of the ear of a seated adult. When this need is balanced with good industrial design practice, the result is an upper enclosure which is smaller than the lower enclosure. IET was developed specifically to achieve an ideal balance of sound performance and visual congruity in vertical twin systems.

IET requires a horn driver with a high-energy motor, which can operate in both a large enclosure and small enclosure without becoming underdamped. IET is optimized when one enclosure is 20 to 25 percent larger than the mean value of the two enclosures, and the other is 20 to 25 percent smaller than the mean. This results in four different resonances, one for each of the two horn drivers and one for each of the two ports. The composite of these four energy sources is low frequency performance whose response characteristics exhibit both speed and extension.

275Hz Medium Frequency Driver

The 275Hz mid and high frequency compression driver is based on the professional JBL 2426

driver. The most outstanding feature of this new driver is a rare-earth neodymium magnet structure which combines the attributes of efficiency, strength, compact size, and thermal stability for improved linearity and freedom from power compression at higher sound pressure levels. An additional benefit of employing neodymium magnetic technology is that the entire driver forms a closed magnetic circuit, eliminating the possibility of any stray magnetic fields interfering with other electro-magnetic devices.

High frequency response has been extended well beyond the limits where compression drivers could typically be useful in the past. To accomplish this, a super-low mass titanium diaphragm — 25 percent thinner than previous designs — has been developed specifically for the K2.55500. The diaphragm is coupled to an edge-wound aluminum voice coil with a diameter of 45 mm (1 3/4 inch). The driver's pole piece is copper-plated to reduce inductance, thereby extending high frequency response. In addition, the most recent version of JBL's small format circumferential phasing plug has been employed to further improve high frequency output. The phase plug is cast from zinc.

In the K2.55500, the compression driver's titanium diaphragm is coated with a microscopically thin coating of Aquaplan to smooth response and minimize bending modes of the diaphragm. JBL's patented diamond pattern surround is incorporated in the driver for resonance control.

HORN DESIGN AND CONSTRUCTION

The horn utilized in the K2.55500 is an original bi-radial design, a JBL innovation. Developed specifically for the K2.55500, this new horn is constructed from an all new material never before used for audio. Coverage angle is sixty degrees horizontal, forty degrees vertical, and is constant virtually throughout the rated response of the high frequency section of the system.

The new horn material has been custom formulated specifically for JBL. It is a low profile surface, polyester based, glass fiber reinforced composite molding compound called JBL COMPF II.

Many of the characteristics of JBL COMPF II make it excellent for use as a horn. It has superb damping characteristics for resonance-free performance; its density is two and a half times as great as Medium Density Fiberboard (MDF), the wood composite used in the uncompromising and heavy K2.55500 cabinets. The horn alone — without driver — weighs approximately 11 kg (25 lb). It is a precision material, making it ideal for consistent repetitive production of the new horn with its very tight tolerances and need for dimensional control.
