Contextual Perspectives Developmental Interdisciplinary Development:

Cultural and Contextual Perspectives on Developmental Risk and Well-Being Jacob A. Burack, Louis A. Schmidt, 2014-05-26 Developmental risk refers to conditions characteristics experiences or situations with potentially deleterious effects that lead to outcomes later in life that do not meet societal expectations While risk is typically framed as the statistical probability of a problematic outcome in relation to the general population the converse notion of well being is considered in relation to the level of functioning at a given developmental stage The contributors to this volume provide insight into developmental well being by examining the ways that culture and context affect outcomes associated with various types of risk such as those related to oppression academic performance family background life history physical health and psychiatric conditions Even though certain outcomes may seem inevitable in cases involving harmful environments diseases and disorders they are virtually all influenced by complex interactions among individuals their families communities and societies

Simon, 2014-02-04 This volume is a unique collection of original pieces chronicling diverse national examples of university community partnerships A Dynamic Systems Approach to Adolescent Development Saskia Kunnen, 2012-12-06 The dynamic systems approach is a rapidly expanding advancement in the study of developmental research particularly in the domain of adolescent development It provides a unique way of examining the subject and this innovative study of developmental processes helps social scientists to translate dynamic systems conceptualizations into clear empirical research that readers will be able to implement themselves The first part of this edited book discusses techniques that describe and assess specific process characteristics such as variability sudden jumps and attractor states The second part explores the different techniques for building a dynamic systems model which can simulate the behaviour of a system to investigate the mechanisms behind the processes Each chapter describes one technique and is based on a specific practical example of its application in adolescent development Step by step instructions for model building and examples of ready made models are provided on the website that belongs to the book www.psyppress.com/dynamic-systems-approach This book provides a clear step by step description of theories and techniques that are designed for the study of developmental processes and is therefore ideal for researchers of developmental psychology who do not specialise in statistics or research methods Transition to Adulthood Richard A. Young, Sheila K. Marshall, Ladislav Valach, José F. Domene, Matthew D. Graham, Anat Zaidman-Zait, 2010-09-08 The transition to adulthood involves for most individuals moving from school to work establishment of long term relationships possibly parenting and a number of other psychosocial transformations Now more than ever there is a concern within popular and research literature about children growing up too soon or too late or failing to realize changes associated with being adult With this in mind the book intends to answer a series of timely questions in regard to transition to adulthood and propose a wholly new approach to counseling that enables youth to engage fully in their lives and achieve their best Active Transition to Adulthood A New Approach for Counseling will discuss the authors work on the transition to adulthood including early and late adolescence from an entirely innovative perspective action theory Over a period of 10 15 years the authors have collected substantial data on adolescents and youth in transition and will present an approach to counseling based on these data and cases The action theory perspective in which the authors have grounded their work addresses the intentional goal directed behavior of persons and groups that is expressed through particular actions longer term projects and life encompassing careers In this book both transition to adulthood and counseling will be covered in the language of goal directed action In this way both transition and counseling reflect and capture the action projects and careers in which families youth and clients are engaged and use to construct on going identity and other narratives Lives in Time and Place R. A. Settersten, 2018-10-04 Time and place are of the greatest significance for scientific inquiry about human lives As
