Control Crisis In Colonial Kenya Control Crisis In Colonial Kenya:

Control & Crisis in Colonial Kenya Bruce Berman, 1990 This history of the political economy of Kenya is the first full length study of the development of the colonial state in Africa Professor Berman argues that the colonial state was shaped by the contradictions between maintaining effective political control with limited coercive force and ensuring the profitable articulation of metropolitan and settler capitalism with African societies This dialectic of domination resulted in both the uneven transformation of indigenous societies and in the reconstruction of administrative control in the inter war period The study traces the evolution of the colonial state from its skeletal beginnings in the 1890s to the complex bureaucracy of the post 1945 era which managed the growing integration of the colony with international capital These contradictions led to the political crisis of the Mau Mau emergency in 1952 and to the undermining of the colonial state The book is based on extensive primary sources including numerous interviews with Kenyan and British participants The analysis moves from the micro level of the relationship of the District Commissioners and the African population to the macro level of the state and the political economy of colonialism Professor Berman uses the case of Kenya to make a sophisticated contribution to the theory of the state and to the understanding of the dynamics of the development of modern African political and economic institutions

Indigenous Systems, Colonialism, Colonial Legacies, and Africa's Economic Challenges Stephen Onyango Ouma, 2025-08-20 This book is an exploration of Africa's enduring struggles and immense potential It examines the historical roots of Africa's socio economic challenges from the disruption of indigenous systems to the lasting effects of colonialism and neo colonialism By blending African philosophical perspectives with incisive critiques of globalization and governance it provides a fresh and compelling analysis of the continent's path toward true sovereignty and sustainable development Rich with historical depth and philosophical insight this work challenges conventional narratives about African development and offers innovative strategies for breaking free from dependency on global capitalist systems With its interdisciplinary approach and forward looking solutions this book is an essential resource for scholars policymakers and anyone invested in Africa s transformation Mau Mau Crucible of War Nicholas K. Githuku,2015-12-09 Mau Mau Crucible of War is a study of the social and cultural history of the mentalit of struggle in Kenya which reached a high water mark during the Mau Mau war of the 1950s but which continues to resonate in Kenya today in the ongoing demand for a decent standard of living and social justice for all This work catalyzes intellectual debate in various disciplines regarding not just the evolution of the Kenyan state but also the state in Africa It not only engages historians of colonial and postcolonial economic and political history but also sociologists anthropologists political scientists and those who study personality and social branches of psychology postcolonialism and postmodernity social movements armed conflict specialists and conflict resolution analysts The Dialectic of Domination Bruce J. Berman,1990 Borders & Borderlands as Resources in the Horn of Africa Dereje Feyissa,Markus Virgil Höhne,2010 Borders offer opportunities as well as restrictions and in the Horn of Africa they are used as economic political identity and status resources by borderland peoples State borders are more than barriers They structure social economic and political spaces and as such provide opportunities as well as obstacles for the communities straddling both sides of the border This book deals with the conduits and opportunities of state borders in the Horn of Africa and investigates how the people living there exploit state borders through various strategies Using a micro level perspective the case studies which includethe Horn and Eastern Africa particularly the borders of Djibouti Eritrea Ethiopia Sudan Somalia Kenya Uganda and Tanzania focus on opportunities highlight the agency of the borderlanders and acknowledge the permeabilitybut consequentiality of the borders DEREJE FEYISSA Max Planck Institute of Social Anthropology Halle Germany MARKUS VIRGIL HOEHNE Max Planck Institute of Social Anthropology Halle Germany The Making and Unmaking of Democracy Theodore K. Rabb,Ezra N. Suleiman,2013-11-26 For every citizen of the world there is no more urgent issue than the spread of democracy Democracy is what the WTO protestors are calling for it s the main concern of human rights advocates and it s only long term way to end terrorism But how does democracy spread What can be done to encourage and support This remarkable new collection brings together some of the best minds in variety of fields to discuss the conditions that promote and sustain or undermine and extinguish democratic institutions and ideas Spanning political thought from ancient Athens to contemporary sub Saharan Africa the contributors develop an outline of how democracy develops Several key factors emerge Democratic transitions are always heavily shaped by the ideas and practices of past regimes like tribal traditions in Africa international political and economic pressure to liberalize as in Asia and current economic conditions The quality of democracy is almost always improved by the elimination of religion as the center of the state by the move from democracy as protection of the individual from the state to democracy as enhancer of rights and by the progression from a focus on the individual to a focus on the community Expansive in its coverage and fundamental in its significance The Making and Unmaking of Democracy is a volume to learn from argue against and expand upon No Condition Is Permanent Sara S. Berry,1993-09-15 No condition is permanent a popular West African slogan expresses Sara S Berry s theme the obstacles to African agrarian development never stay the same Her book explores the complex way African economy and society are tied to issues of land and labor offering a comparative study of agrarian change in four rural economies in sub Saharan Africa including two that experienced long periods of expanding peasant production for export southern Ghana and southwestern Nigeria a settler economy central Kenya and a rural labor reserve northeastern Zambia The resources available to African farmers have changed dramatically over the course of the twentieth century Berry asserts that the ways resources are acquired and used are shaped not only by the incorporation of a rural area into colonial later national and global political economies but also by conflicts over culture power and property within and beyond rural communities By tracing the various debates over rights to resources and their effects on agricultural production and farmers uses of income Berry presents agrarian change as a series of on going processes rather than a set of discrete successes and failures No Condition Is Permanent enriches the discussion of agrarian development by showing how multidisciplinary studies of local agrarian history can constructively contribute to development policy The book is a contribution both to African agrarian history and to debates over the role of agriculture in Africa s recent economic crises The Experiment

Must Continue Melissa Graboyes,2015-11-09 The Experiment Must Continue is a beautifully articulated ethnographic history of medical experimentation in East Africa from 1940 through 2014 In it Melissa Graboyes combines her training in public health and in history to treat her subject with the dual sensitivities of a medical ethicist and a fine historian She breathes life into the fascinating histories of research on human subjects elucidating the hopes of the interventionists and the experiences of the putative beneficiaries Historical case studies highlight failed attempts to eliminate tropical diseases while modern examples delve into ongoing malaria and HIV AIDS research Collectively these show how East Africans have perceived research differently than researchers do and that the active participation of subjects led to the creation of a hybrid ethical form By writing an ethnography of the past and a history of the present Graboyes casts medical experimentation in a new light and makes the resounding case that we must readjust our dominant ideas of consent participation and exploitation With global implications this lively book is as relevant for scholars as it is for anyone invested in the place of medicine in society Proudly We Can Be Africans James H. Meriwether,2009-01-05 The mid twentieth century witnessed nations across Africa fighting for their independence from colonial forces By examining black Americans attitudes toward and responses to these liberation struggles James Meriwether probes the shifting meaning of Africa in the intellectual political and social lives of African Americans Paying particular attention to such important figures and organizations as W E B Du Bois Martin Luther King Jr and the NAACP Meriwether incisively utilizes the black press personal correspondence and oral histories to render a remarkably nuanced and diverse portrait of African American opinion Meriwether builds the book around seminal episodes in modern African history including nonviolent protests against apartheid in South Africa the Mau Mau war in Kenya Ghana's drive for independence under Kwame Nkrumah and Patrice Lumumba's murder in the Congo Viewing these events within the context of their own changing lives especially in regard to the U S civil rights struggle African Americans have continually reconsidered their relationship to contemporary Africa and vigorously debated how best to translate their concerns into action in the international arena Grounded in black Americans encounters with Africa this transnational history sits astride the leading issues of the twentieth century race civil rights anticolonialism and the intersections of domestic race relations and U S foreign relations
