Critical Ecologies The Frankfurt School And Contemporary Environmental Crises:

Critical Ecologies Andrew Biro,2011-01-01 Environmental movements are the subject of increasingly rigorous political theoretical study Can the Frankfurt School s critical frameworks be used to address ecological issues or do environmental conflicts remain part of the failed promise of this group Critical Ecologies aims to redeem the theories of major Frankfurt thinkers Theodor Adorno Max Horkheimer and Herbert Marcuse among others by applying them to contemporary environmental crises Critical Ecologies argues that sustainability and critical social theory have many similar goals including resistance to different forms of domination Like the Frankfurt School itself the essays in this volume reflect a spirit of interdisciplinarity and draw attention to intersections between environmental socio political and philosophical issues Offering textual analyses by leading scholars in both critical theory and environmental politics Critical Ecologies underscores the continued relevance of the Frankfurt School s ideas for addressing contemporary issues

Readings in the Anthropocene Sabine Wilke,Japhet Johnstone,2017-09-21 Readings in the Anthropocene brings together scholars from German Studies and beyond to interpret the German tradition of the last two hundred years from a perspective that is mindful of the challenge posed by the concept of the Anthropocene This new age of man unofficially pronounced in 2000 holds that humans are becoming a geological force in shaping the Earth s future Among the biggest challenges facing our future are climate change accelerated species loss and a radical transformation of land use What are the historical philosophical cultural literary and artistic responses to this new concept The essays in this volume bring German culture to bear on what it means to live in the Anthropocene from a historical ethical and aesthetic perspective

Critical Theory and the Thought of Andrew Feenberg Darrell P. Arnold,Andreas Michel,2017-11-01 This volume explores Andrew Feenberg s work in critical theory Feenberg is considered one of the key second generation critical theorists with a keen interest in philosophy of technology He has made a vital contribution to critical theory in ways that remain of interest given the pressing technological issues of our time The authors of this book highlight not only the ways that Feenberg has begun to make good on what is often characterized as the broken promise of critical theory to address issues of technology but also the continued importance of critical theory more generally and of Feenberg s contributions to understanding this tradition

Multiple Perspectives on the Study of Life Lema Habash, Nicolas,Chirolla Ospina, Gustavo,2024-03-30 The infinite multiplicity of existing life forms calls for equally multiple approaches to studying the living However no approach will ever be capable of exhausting the various perspectives required for research on life This impossibility is not only given by the unmanageable task of establishing an infinitely multidisciplinary approach but also by the diverse and ever changing subject matters that can potentially fall under the category of the living This book is nevertheless an effort in that direction acknowledging a multiplicity of ways in which life forms may be studied and a diversity of disciplinary perspectives suited for this task

Beyond the World's End T. J. Demos,2020-08-03 In Beyond the World s End T J Demos explores cultural practices that provide radical propositions for living in a world beset by environmental and political crises Rethinking relationships between aesthetics and an expanded political ecology that foregrounds just futurity Demos examines how contemporary artists are diversely addressing urgent themes including John Akomfrah's cinematic entanglements of racial capitalism with current environmental threats the visual politics of climate refugees in work by Forensic Architecture and Teddy Cruz and Fonna Forman and moving images of Afrofuturist climate justice in projects by Arthur Jafa and Martine Syms Demos considers video and mixed media art that responds to resource extraction in works by Angela Melitopoulos Allora Calzadilla and Ursula Biemann as well as the multispecies ecologies of Terike Haapoja and Public Studio Throughout Demos contends that contemporary intersections of aesthetics and politics as exemplified in the Standing Rock NoDAPL campaign and the Zad's autonomous zone in France are creating the imaginaries that will be crucial to building a socially just and flourishing future

Post-growth Politics Peter Ferguson, 2018-06-19 This book uses a critical political economy approach to develop an historically and politically grounded set of strategies for states to move toward a post growth decarbonised global economy It begins by examining the social and ecological costs of and limits to economic growth and determines that significant decarbonisation of the global economy can only be achieved if conventional growth based economies are replaced by an alternative post growth economy Set apart from many other works in the field by its critical political economy approach to policy development this book offers the reader three distinctive features First it places the analysis in historical context in order to demonstrate how the global political economy is constantly changing with respect to distributions of wealth power and fundamental norms and explores how states might harness and transform these contingent patterns in a post growth direction Second the book is not only concerned with developing and advocating post growth policies but also with how these measures can be incorporated into the high level domestic and international strategies pursued by states to ensure their political legitimacy and economic and geopolitical survival Third rather than proposing an idealised and politically naive model of socioecological transformation the proposed post growth policy framework is highly cognisant of the geopolitical and international economic pressures facing states and demonstrates how these can be managed in the transition toward a post growth economy This book represents an invaluable resource for policymakers academics activists and students wishing to study or contribute to the transition to a post growth decarbonised economy

Crisis Narratives in International Law Makane Moïse Mbengue, Jean D'Aspremont, 2021-11-15 This volume offers a series of short and highly self reflective essays by leading international lawyers on the relation between international law and crises It particularly shows that international law shapes the crises that it addresses as much as it is shaped by them It critically evaluates the modes of intervention of international law in the problems of the world Together these essays provide a unique stocktaking about the role limits and potential of international law as well as the worlds that are imagined through international lawyers vocabularies

Ontological Politics in a Disposable World Luigi Pellizzoni, 2016-03-03 This book explores the intertwining of politics and ontology shedding light on the ways in which as our ability to investigate regulate appropriate enhance and destroy material reality have developed so new social scientific accounts of nature and our relationship with it have emerged together with new forms of power Engaging with cutting edge social theory and elaborating on the thought of Foucault Heidegger Adorno and Agamben the author demonstrates that the convergence of ontology with politics is not simply an intellectual endeavour of growing import but also a governmental practice which builds upon neoliberal programmes the renewed accumulation of capital and the development of technosciences in areas such as climate change geoengineering and biotechnology With shifts in our accounts of nature have come new means of mastering it giving rise to unprecedented forms of exploitation and destruction with related forms of social domination In the light of growing social inequalities environmental degradation and resource appropriation and commodification Ontological Politics in a Disposable World The New Mastery of Nature reveals the need for new critical frameworks and oppositional practices to challenge the rationality of government that lies behind these developments a rationality that thrives on indeterminacy and an account of materiality as comprised of fluid ever changing states simultaneously agential and pliable to which social theory increasingly subscribes without questioning enough its underpinnings and implications A theoretically sophisticated reassessment of the relationship between ontology and politics which draws the contours of a renewed humanism to allow for a more harmonious relationship with the world this book will appeal to scholars in social and political theory environmental sociology geography science and technology studies and contemporary European thought on the material world Thinking with Water Cecilia Chen, Janine MacLeod, Astrida Neimanis, 2013-10-01 Emphasizing the role that vivid personalities including engineers John Laing Weller and Alex Grant as well as contractors and labourers played in the construction of the canal Roberta Styran and Robert Taylor use archival sources government documents newspapers maps and original plans to describe a saga of technological financial geographical and social obstacles met and overcome in an accomplishment akin to the building of the Canadian Pacific Railway A story of Canadian skill courage vision and hardship This Colossal Project details the twenty year excavation of the giant channel and the creation of huge concrete locks amidst war the Great Depression political change and labour unrest Postcolonial Literatures of Climate Change, 2022-07-04 Postcolonial Literatures of Climate Change investigates the evolving nature of postcolonial literary criticism in response to global regional and local environmental transformations brought about by climate change It builds upon and extends previous studies in postcolonial ecocriticism to demonstrate how the growing awareness of human caused global warming has begun to permeate literary consciousness praxis and analysis The breadth of the volume's coverage the diversity of its focal locations cultures genres and texts serves as a salient reminder that while climate change is global its impacts vary effecting peoples from place to place unequally and often in accordance with their particular historical experience of colonialism and neo colonialism as well as their ongoing marginalisations Demonstrating the urgency of invoking novel epistemological approaches combining the scientific and the imaginative this book is a must read for those concerned about the present and potential impacts of climate change on formerly colonised areas of the world The comprehensive and illuminating Introduction offers a crucial history and current state of postcolonial ecocriticism as it has been and is addressing climate crises Helen Tiffin University of Wollongong The broad focus on the polar regions the Pacific and the Caribbean with added essays on environmental justice activism in India and Egypt opens up rich terrain for examination under the rubric of postcolonial and ecocritical analysis not only expanding recent studies in this field but also enabling new comparisons and conceptual linkages Helen Gilbert Royal Holloway University of London The subject is topical and vital and will become even more so as the problem of how to reconcile the demands of climate change with the effects on regions and individual nations already damaged by the economic effects of colonisation and the subsequent inequalities resulting from neo colonialism continues to grow Gareth Griffiths Em Prof University of Western Australia
