Hass,2013-11-01 Explores the rise of the idea of nothing in Western modernity and how its figuration is transforming and offering new possibilities In this groundbreaking interdisciplinary history of ideas Andrew W Hass explores the ascendancy of the concept of nothing into late modernity He argues that the rise of the reality of nothing in religion philosophy and literature has taken place only against the decline of the concept of One a shift from a sovereign understanding of the One unity universality toward the figure of the O a cipher figure that as nonentity is nevertheless determinant of other realities The figuring of this O culminates in a proliferation of literary expressions of nothingness void and absence from 1940 to 1960 but by century's end this movement has shifted from linear progression to mutation whereby religion theology philosophy literature and other critical modes of thought such as feminism merge into a shared circular activity The writer W H Auden lends his name to this O his long poetic work The Sea and the Mirror an exemplary manifestation of its implications Hass examines this work along with that of a host of writers philosophers and theologians to trace the revolutionary hermeneutics and creative space of the O and to provide the reasoning of why nothing is now such a powerful force in the imagination of the twenty first century and of how it might move us through and beyond our turbulent times

Migration in the Western Mediterranean

Laure-Anne Bernes, Hassan Bousetta, Caroline Zickgraf, 2017-08-22 The upheavals of the Arab Spring grabbed the world's immediate attention and concern quickly grew over their potential aftermath with the fear that a tidal wave of immigrants and refugees would flood European territory The Arab Spring has highlighted the Mediterranean as a migration region and new research is now required to bring to light too often neglected mobility patterns and border practices that predate and outlast the tumultuous spring of 2011 The edited volume Space Mobility and Borders in the Western Mediterranean tackles these contemporary issues related to migration in the Mediterranean region It brings together high quality original academic contributions from both empirical and theoretical points of view by scholars from diverse disciplines who draw upon Anglophone Francophone Spanish and Italian research It reexamines borders in the light of a now full blown body of literature that seeks to capture the complexity of their contemporary features beyond their most direct visual enactments in particular the sweeping deployment of policing devices and operations along the North South fault line Another distinctive binding thread in this book is that it emphasizes migrants as active subjects interacting with local events national policies and the bordering process Offering an examination of the intricate interplay among the events of the Arab Spring migration's multiple types and actors and the evolving relationship between migration control and borders in the region this book is an essential resource for students and scholars of migration studies European Union Studies and Mediterranean Studies
