Cruciformity Michael J. Gorman, 2021-07-27 When it was first published in 2001 Cruciformity broke new ground with a vision of Pauline spirituality that illuminated what it meant to be a person or community in Christ Beginning with Paul's express desire to know nothing but Christ crucified Gorman showed how true spirituality is telling the story in both life and words of God's self-revelation in Jesus so that we might practice cruciformity the impossible possibility of conformity to the crucified Christ Two decades later Gorman's seminal work is still a powerful model for combining biblical studies and theological reflection to make Paul's letters more immediately relevant to contemporary Christian life This twentieth anniversary edition includes a new foreword by Nijay Gupta a next generation Pauline scholar heavily influenced by Gorman as well as an afterword by the author in which he reflects on the legacy of Cruciformity in the church and the academy including his own subsequent work in Pauline theology

Cruciformity Michael J. Gorman, 2010

Participating in Christ Michael J. Gorman, 2019-09-17 World renowned scholar Michael Gorman examines the important Pauline theme of participation in Christ and explores its contemporary significance for Christian life and ministry One of the themes Gorman explores is what he calls resurrectional cruciformity that participating in Christ is simultaneously dying and rising with him and that cross-shaped living infused with the life of the resurrected Lord is life giving Throughout the book Gorman demonstrates the centrality of participating in Christ for Paul's theology and spirituality

Reading Paul Michael J. Gorman, 2008-01-01 In this new introduction to the Apostle Paul and his gospel written especially for lay readers for beginning students and for those unsure about what to make of Paul Michael J. Gorman takes the apostle seriously as someone who speaks for God and to us After an overview not only of Paul's radical transformation from persecutor to proclaimer but also of his letter writing in the context of Paul's new mission Reading Paul explores the central themes of the apostle's gospel Gorman places special emphasis on the theopolitical character of Paul's gospel and on the themes of cross and resurrection multiculturalism in the church and peacemaking and nonviolence as the way of Christ according to Paul Gorman also offers a distinctive interpretation of justification by faith as participation in Christ and interpretation that challenges standard approaches to these Pauline themes Reading Paul demonstrates that the apostle of faith hope and love speaks not only to our deepest spiritual needs but also to the challenging times in which we live

Looking for Life John G. Lewis, 2005-04-30 Through exegetical studies of 1 Corinthians and Galatians John Lewis shows how Paul synthesises theology and ethics which interpreters frequently separate as integrated aspects of Christian thinking and living This fusion becomes evident in Paul's complex process of theological moral reasoning that lies beneath the surface of his letters for which we have coined the phrase theo ethical reasoning The book also examines how Paul encourages his churches to apply this theo ethical reasoning in the community practice of spiritual discernment a dialogical comparative process of reasoned reflection on behaviour and experience Through this practice of looking for life community members are led by the Spirit as they reason together attempting to associate the manifestations of new life with conduct that faithfully portrays Christ's self giving pattern This correlation of conduct with experience grounds Paul's own proclamation of Jesus Christ in word and deed It also becomes the foundation for believers faith and hope as they come to know Christ and experience the power of God Thus the book concludes that the practice of spiritual discernment by means of theo ethical reasoning lies at the centre of Paul's religion

Paul's Eschatological Anthropology Sarah Harding, 2016-02-01 In this study Sarah Harding examines Paul's anthropology from the perspective of eschatology concluding that the apostle's view of humans is a function of his belief that the cosmos evolves through distinct aeons in progress toward its telos Although scholars have frequently assumed that Paul's anthropological utterances are arbitrary inconsistent or dependent upon parallel views extant in the first century world Harding shows that these assumptions only arise when Paul's anthropology is considered apart from its eschatological context That context includes the temporal distinction of the old aeon the new aeon and the significant overlap of aeons in which those in Christ dwell as well as a spatial dimension that comprises the cosmos and the powers that dominate it especially sin and the Holy Spirit These eschatological dimensions determine the value Paul attaches to any particular anthropological aspect Harding examines the cosmological power dominant in each aeon and the structures through which in Paul's view these influence human beings examining texts in which Paul discusses nous kardia and soma in each aeon
