Colegrove,2021-05-03 Early childhood can be a time of rich discovery a period when educators have an opportunity to harness their students fascination to create unique learning opportunities Some teachers engage with their students ideas in ways that make learning collaborative but not all students have access to these kinds of learning environments In Segregation by Experience the authors filmed and studied a a first grade classroom led by a Black immigrant teacher who encouraged her diverse group of students to exercise their agency When the researchers showed the film to other schools everyone struggled Educators admired the teacher but didn t think her practices would work with their own Black and brown students Parents of color many of them immigrants liked many of the practices but worried that they would compromise their children And the young children who viewed the film thought that the kids in the film were terrible loud and badly behaved they told the authors that learning was supposed to be quiet still and obedient In Segregation by Experience Jennifer Keys Adair and Kiyomi S nchez Suzuki Colegrove show us just how much our expectations of children of color affect what and how they learn at school and they ask us to consider which children get to have sophisticated dynamic learning experiences at school and which children are denied such experiences because of our continued racist assumptions about them

International Child Protection Neil Howard, Samuel Okyere, 2022-02-19. This book interrogates the international child protection regime with a particular focus on its weaknesses and failures. It looks at the lack of accountability, the normativity, and the tendency to recreate patterns of power and exclusion that blight otherwise good intentions. The book assesses why the regime falls short of its ideals and offers ideas for what can be done to improve it. Bringing together influential established voices and emerging scholars who work on issues related to childhood, youth policy, and practice, the book offers a timely intervention that aims to push the world of international child protection in more progressive directions.
