

Unit 4 Ecosystems

Topic 4.3 Intruders in an ecosystem

Getting started

Imagine a new species of cactus is introduced in the Sonoran Desert. What might happen to saguaro cacti and other species in the Sonoran Desert?

Ans: The introduced species 'will take over'. Because it grows and reproduces more quickly than the native saguaro, then there will be less light, water and space for the saguaros to grow. If the saguaros disappear, or are reduced in numbers, this will reduce the numbers of other species that depend on the saguaros, such as the Gila woodpecker, termites, sap beetles and so on.

Questions in page 141

1 What is a 'native species'?

Ans: A species that has always lived in the country that it 'belongs' to.

A native species is indigenous to a given region or ecosystem if its presence in that region is the result of only local natural evolution

2 Name some native species in your country.

Ans: The Zoological Survey of India (ZSI), with its headquarters in Kolkata and 16 regional stations is responsible for surveying the faunal resources of India. Possessing a tremendous diversity of climate and physical conditions, India has great variety of fauna, numbering 92,037 species, of which insects alone include 61,375 species. It is estimated that about two times that number of species still remain to be discovered in India alone.

The mammals include the majestic elephant, the gaur or Indian bison - the largest of existing bovines, the great Indian rhinoceros, the gigantic wild sheep of the Himalayas, the swamp deer, the thamin spotted deer, nilgai, the four-horned antelope, the Indian antelope or black-buck - the only representatives of these genera. Among the cats, the tiger and lion are the most magnificent of all; other splendid creatures such as the clouded leopard, the snow leopard, the marbled cat, etc., are also found. Several birds, like pheasants, geese, ducks, mynahs, parakeets, pigeons, cranes, hornbills and sun birds inhabit forests and wetlands.

Rivers and lakes harbour crocodiles and gharials. The salt-water crocodile is found along the eastern coast and in the Andaman and Nicobar Islands. The great Himalayan range has a very interesting variety of fauna that includes the wild sheep and goats, markhor, ibex, shrew and tapir. The panda and the snow leopard are found in the upper reaches of the mountains.

3 Suggest why it is difficult to eradicate an introduced species.

practitioners professionals in health welfare and education and interested laypersons including parents This is no easy task since the levels of technical knowledge vary from that of the special education teacher seeking information about the drugs that many such pupils will be receiving to that of the modern young child and adolescent psychiatrist whose grasp of the difficult fields of pharmacokinetics how drugs are absorbed distributed and eliminated and neurotransmitter physiology via which most psychoactive drugs work is daunting to the editors who grew up in the bucolic clinical empirical era Inevitably there are sections of the book that will prove too technical for any except the medically qualified but considerable effort has been applied to make much of the text especially that discussing the clinical uses and side effects of the drugs comprehensible to anyone used to getting information by reading We also take comfort in the fact that many of the major contributions in pediatric psychopharmacology have been made by nonmedical professionals notably psychologists suggesting that an audience beyond the medically qualified is practicable One other problem confronted us whether to organize the book by psycho pathological symptoms e g hyperactivity and disorders e g autism or by drugs
