Jo Brayford, Francis Cowe, John Deering, 2013-05-07 Sex offending and in particular child sex offending is a complex area for policy makers theorists and practitioners A focus on punishment has reinforced sex offending as a problem that is essentially other to society and discourages engagement with the real scale and scope of sexual offending in the UK This book looks at the growth of work with sex offenders questioning assumptions about the range and types of such offenders and what effective responses to these might be Divided into four sections this book sets out the growth of a broad legislative context and the emergence of child sexual offenders in criminal justice policy and practice It goes on to consider a range of offences and victim typologies arguing that work with offenders and victims is complex and can provide a rich source of theoretical and practical knowledge that should be utilised more fully by both policy makers and practitioners It includes work on female sex offenders electronic monitoring and animal abuse as well as exploring interventions with sex offenders in three different contexts prisons communities and hostels Bringing together academic practice and policy experts the book argues that a clear but complex theoretical and policy approach is required if the risk of re offending and further victimisation is to be reduced Ultimately this book questions whether it makes sense to locate responsibility for responding to sexual offending solely within the criminal justice domain Sex Offenders Fabian M. Schwartz,Henry R. Cellini,1995

What Else Works? Jo Brayford,Francis B Cowe,John Deering,2013-05-13 What Else Works has developed out of a growing awareness amongst practitioners that centralized notions of what works and one size fits all approaches to work with offenders and other groups is inevitably limited in its scope and effectiveness The book seeks to dispel the view of probation service users as offenders and socially excluded people as problems to be managed and treated and instead considers more creative alternatives to reduce both re offending and social exclusion These include working separately with women black and minority ethnic groups local community focussed projects in education and nature and conservation programmes The reader is encouraged to think about past and current policy practice and the relationship between practitioners and offenders or other socially excluded people Questions are raised as to whether and how practice could be different and contributors explore the theme of creative and change focussed practice or focus on a particular approach to a practice This book will appeal to students on criminal justice criminology and social work courses professionals operating in these fields as well as the wider audience of professionals and academics who may engage with these service users from a range of policy and practice perspectives
