International Financial Centres after the Global Financial Crisis and Brexit Youssef Cassis,Dariusz Wójcik,2018-06-26 As well as marking the tenth anniversary of the collapse of Lehman Brothers and the consequent unleashing of the global financial crisis 2018 is also the year of negotiations on the terms of the UK's exit from the European Union Within a decade the banking world has witnessed two epochal events with potential to redraw the map of international financial centres but how much has this map actually changed since 2008 and how is it likely to change in the near future International Financial Centres after the Global Financial Crisis and Brexit gathers together leading economic historians geographers and other social scientists to focus on the post 2008 developments in key international financial centres It focuses on the shifting hierarchies of New York London Paris Geneva Zurich Frankfurt Singapore Hong Kong Beijing Shanghai and Tokyo to question whether Asian financial centres have taken advantage of the crisis in the West It also examines the medium effects of the crisis the level of regulation and the rise of new technology fintech By exploring these crucial changes it questions whether shifts in the financial industry and the global landscape will render these centres unnecessary for the functioning of the global economy and which cities are likely to emerge as hubs of new financial technology

The Financial Services Sourcebook Robert Cunnew, Alison Scammell, 2017-09-29 Provides a first port of call for those seeking information sources in a sector that has undergone tremendous change in recent years Includes information on banks and building societies insurance companies investment funds and pension funds Highlights essential reference works consumer information career guides technical reports official publications market and company research product information and electronic resources Identifies the most appropriate sources and provides assistance in choosing between competing items and provides an overview of significant international sources

Regulating Modern International Financial Services Centres: A Case Study of Ireland and Caribbean Financial Services , Legal Aspects of Financial Services Regulation and the Concept of a Unified Regulator Kenneth Kaoma Mwenda, 2006-01-01 That different types of financial services and products continue to spring up in the financial sector of many countries is indicative of the changing landscape of the financial services industry globally Equally important as indicators of the evolving trajectory of financial services regulation are increases in the number of countries where universal banking is practiced and in numbers of parent and subsidiary companies providing different types of financial services and products This book is written against that background A central thesis pursued in the book is that until there is a longer track record of experience with unified regulators it is difficult to come to firm conclusions about the restructuring process of regulators and the optimal internal structure of such agencies In addition the book examines the concept of an independent regulator showing how this concept as a corollary to the concept of a unified regulator could strengthen the regulatory and institutional framework for financial services supervision if accountability were to be part of such a framework
