Cycling Home from Siberia Rob Lilwall, 2011-04-05 It is late October and the temperature is already 40 degrees My thoughts are filled with frozen rivers that may or may not hold my weight empty forgotten valleys haunted by emaciated ghosts and packs of ravenous merciless wolves Having left his job as a high school geography teacher Rob Lilwall arrived in Siberia equipped only with a bike and a healthy dose of fear Cycling Home from Siberia recounts his epic three and a half year 30 000 mile journey back to England via the foreboding jungles of Papua New Guinea an Australian cyclone and Afghanistan s war torn Hindu Kush A gripping story of endurance and adventure this is also a spiritual journey providing poignant insight into life on the road in some of the world s toughest corners Returning to Tillich Russell Re

Manning, Samuel Andrew Shearn, 2017-12-04 Fifty years after his death in 1965 the essays in this collection return to Paul Tillich to investigate his theology and its legacy with a focus on contemporary British scholarship Originating in a conference held in Oxford in 2014 the book contains 16 original contributions from a mixture of junior and more established scholars most of whom have a connection to Britain The contributions are diverse but four themes emerge throughout the volume Several essays are concerning with a characterisation of Tillich s theology In dialogue with recent emphases on the radical Tillich some essays suggest a more conservative estimation of Tillich s theology rooted in the Idealist and classical Christian platonic traditions whilst in constant engagement with changing existential situations Secondly and perhaps reflecting the context of religious diversity and theories of religious pluralism in Britain many essays engage Tillich s approach to non Christian religions Thirdly some essays address the importance of existentialist philosophy for Tillich notably via an engagement with Sartre Finally a number of essays take up the diagnostic potential of Tillich s theology as a resource for engaging contemporary challenges Motorcycle Illustrated ,1919 Youth's Companion ,1920 Popular
