Cibse Lighting Guide 2 2009:

The Colour, Light and Contrast Manual Keith Bright, Geoffrey Cook, 2010-01-06 Endorsed by the Society of Light and Lighting this practical book offers comprehensive guidance on how colour light and contrast can be incorporated within buildings to enhance their usability. The book provides state of the art clear guidance as well as a valuable information source for busy professionals involved in the design or management of new and existing environments. The ways colour light and contrast are used within built environments are critical in determining how people interact with the space and how confident safe and secure they will feel when doing so. They also have a major influence on a person's sense of well being and their ability to use the environment independently and without undue effort. Understanding how to use colour and contrast and how they are influenced by both natural and artificial lighting is vital for all those involved in the design and management of the environments and spaces we all use. In recent years there has been a considerable amount of work undertaken to further our understanding of how colour light and contrast affect emotion and sensory abilities and how they can assist or hinder people in their everyday lives. Other publications consider these issues individually but The Colour Light and Contrast Manual designing and managing inclusive built environments draws knowledge and information together to produce a unique comprehensive and informative guide to how the three elements can work together to improve the design and management of environments for us all. Building Services Design for Energy Efficient Buildings Paul Tymkow, Savvas Tassou, Maria Kolokotroni, Hussam Jouhara, 2020-07-12 The role and influence of building services engineers are undergoing rapid change and are pivotal to achieving low carbon buildings. However textbooks in the field have tended to remain fairly traditional with a detailed focus on the technicalities of heating ventilation and air conditioning. HVAC systems often with little wider context. This book addresses that need by embracing a contemporary understanding of the urgent challenge to address climate change together with practical approaches to energy efficiency and carbon mitigation for mechanical and electrical systems in a concise manner. The essential conceptual design issues for planning the principal building services systems that influence energy efficiency are examined in detail. These are HVAC and electrical systems. In addition the following issues are addressed: background issues on climate change, whole life performance and design collaboration, generic strategies for energy efficient low carbon design, health and wellbeing and post occupancy evaluation, building ventilation, air conditioning and HVAC system selection, thermal energy generation and distribution systems, low energy approaches for thermal control, electrical systems, data collection, controls and monitoring, building thermal load assessment, building electric power load assessment, space planning and design integration with other disciplines. In order to deliver buildings that help mitigate climate change impacts a new perspective is required for building services engineers from the initial conceptual design and throughout the design collaboration with other disciplines. This book provides a contemporary introduction and guide to this new approach for students and practitioners alike
