Skinner,James L. Skinner,2011-08-15 Spanning nearly a century the letters in this collection revolve around a central event in the history of a southern family the death of the eldest son owing to sickness contracted during service in the Confederate Army The letters reveal a slaveowning family with keen interests in art music and nature and an unshakable belief in their religion and in the Confederate cause William Seagrove Smith was a private in the signal corps of the Eighteenth Battalion Georgia Infantry Smith was part of the force defending Savannah until it fell in late 1864 and then marched with General William J Hardee in his famous retreat out of the city and through the Carolinas Like so many other soldiers on both sides of the conflict William Smith fell not at the hands of an enemy but from disease He died in Raleigh North Carolina on July 7 1865 A parallel and complementary story about William s younger brother Archibald also emerges in the letters As a cadet at Georgia Military Institute Archibald was as his parents fervently wished exempt from service however he ultimately saw and survived action before the war s end Scattered among the many lines in the letters that are devoted to the two brothers are a wealth of particulars about agricultural industrial and social life in the family's north Georgia community of Roswell the Smith family's flight from Sherman's invasion force their lives as refugees in south Georgia and a final reunion of the Smith brothers outside of Savannah just after the city's fall Also included are a number of moving exchanges between the Smiths and the family that cared for William in his final days A brief history of the Smith family through 1863 begins the correspondence while the letters following the war reveal their fortitude in the face of William's death and the hardships of Reconstruction The volume concludes with selected letters from the subsequent generation of Smiths who conjure images of the Old South and revive the memory of William Like the most distinguished Civil War era letter collections The Death of a Confederate introduces a personal dimension to its story that is often lost in histories of this sweeping event Genealogical & Local History Books in Print ,1997 Cullman County, Alabama Cemeteries, Volume 1 Robin Sterling,2013-07-23 Cullman County was established in 1877 in large part from the west side of Blount and the east side of Winston counties Today the few old cemeteries which existed in those counties in the early days are found within the borders of Cullman The cemetery listings in this four volume set were conducted by the author beginning in 2003 and ending in early 2006 An attempt was made to personally visit every cemetery in Cullman County and record information from each readable monument Volume 1 of this series covers alphabetically cemeteries A through D beginning with the Addington Chapel Cemetery and concluding with the Duck River Missionary Baptist Church Cemetery The volumes are filled with photos of many of the old cemetery sites and notes describing the company and unit of most of the old Civil War era veterans This set of books is vital to any serious student of Cullman County genealogy and history
