

The background of the entire image is a misty, atmospheric photograph of a lake. In the foreground, a green canoe with two white seats is partially visible, floating on the calm water. The water reflects the surrounding mist and trees. In the distance, a line of trees and foliage is visible through the fog. The overall mood is quiet and contemplative.

more than two hundred years In Volume II of The Invention of the White Race Theodore Allen explores the transformation that turned African bond laborers into slaves and segregated them from their fellow proletarians of European origin In response to labor unrest where solidarities were not determined by skin color the plantation bourgeoisie sought to construct a buffer of poor whites whose new racial identity would protect them from the enslavement visited upon African Americans This was the invention of the white race an act of cruel ingenuity that haunts America to this day Allen s acclaimed study has become indispensable in debates on the origins of racial oppression in America In this updated edition scholar Jeffrey B Perry provides a new introduction a select bibliography and a study guide      Ciliates: Key Organisms in Aquatic
