Using Data in Schools to Inform Leadership and Decision Making Alex J. Bowers, Alan R. Shoho, Bruce G. Barnett, 2014-11-01 Our fifth book in the International Research on School Leadership series focuses on the use of data in schools and districts as useful information for leadership and decision making Schools are awash in data and information from test scores to grades to discipline reports and attendance as just a short list of student information sources while additional streams of data feed into schools and districts from teachers and parents as well as local regional and national policy levels To deal with the data schools have implemented a variety of data practices from data rooms to data days data walks and data protocols However despite the flood of data successful school leaders are leveraging an analysis of their school's data as a means to bring about continuous improvement in an effort to improve instruction for all students. Nevertheless, some drown, some swim, while others find success. Our goal in this book volume is to bring together a set of chapters by authors who examine successful data use as it relates to leadership and school improvement. In particular, the chapters in this volume consider important issues in this domain including: How educational leaders use data to inform their practice; What types of data and data analysis are most useful to successful school leaders; To what extent are data-driven and data-informed practices helping school leaders positively change instructional practice; In what ways does good data collection and analysis feed into successful continuous improvement and holistic systems thinking; How have school leadership practices changed as more data and data analysis techniques have become available; What are the major obstacles facing school leaders when using data for decision making and how do they overcome them.

Handbook of Contemporary Education Economics Geraint Johnes, Jill Johnes, Tommaso

Agasisti, Laura López-Torres, 2017-12-29 This Handbook provides a comprehensive overview of the modern economics of education literature, bringing together a series of original contributions by globally renowned experts in their fields. The Power of Instructional Coaching in Context Jacy Ippolito, Rita M. Bean, 2024-03-20 This book provides guidance for leveraging the power of instructional coaching and helping coaching programs succeed. It addresses the crucial importance of aligning instructional goals/content with school, district, and community factors that influence the work of teachers and coaches. The authors present a framework for embedding coaching into the fabric of school life in service of creating equitable opportunities and outcomes for all students. Instructive features throughout the chapters include Framing Questions, Voices from the Field vignettes, Stop and Reflect opportunities, Reflection Activities, and Questions and reproducible, downloadable planning forms.

System Wise Adam Parrott-Sheffer, Carmen Williams, David Rease, Kathryn Parker Boudett, 2024-05-23 Actionable and adaptable guidance for extending the proven Data Wise process from the classroom to entire school systems.

Continuous Improvement Erin Anderson, Sonya D. Hayes, 2023-09-01 Through this book, we seek to describe improvement science in action for educators, schools, districts, universities, and communities. This book is a venue for improvement research in education focused on the application of improvement science in educational settings. Improvement science requires extensive engagement in rigorous work to implement sustainable change at a systemic level. As the editors of this volume for the Leadership in School Improvement SIG book series, we hope that these chapters, written by researchers, practitioners, and leaders engaged in improvement science, will help others begin their own improvement processes to achieve desired equitable and sustainable results for student success.
