Read This Before Using Your Cutter Head

The use of the two-blade shaper cutter head is VERY DANGEROUS in the hands of an unskilled or inexperienced operator, and great caution must be used if injury is to be avoided. This shaper head has been designed to reduce the danger to the minimum, and it is very much safer than ordinary grooved collars, but we still want to emphasize the fact that it is a dangerous tool, and to caution you to observe the following precautions always:

1. Keep your knives in pairs, as they come from the maker, and check to see that they are EXACTLY of the same width before using in the head. If knives are not of exactly the same width one of them may be held loosely in the groove when the head is tightened and may fly out when the machine is in operation.
2. When grinding knives, remove the same amount of stock from each, and weigh them to see that they are of the same weight before using them in the head.
3. Set the knives in the head and tighten the locking nut with the fingers. Now take hold of the two knives at their outer ends with the fingers, and try to pull them out of the grooves. If one knife slips it is an indication that it is narrower than the other, and they should not be used together.
4. Set the knives carefully so that there is the same amount of projection on both sides, and so that both will do an equal share of the cutting, keeping the head in balance at the same time.
5. Do not use knives after they have been ground down too short. The knives should bear clear across the grooves in the cutter head and collar.
